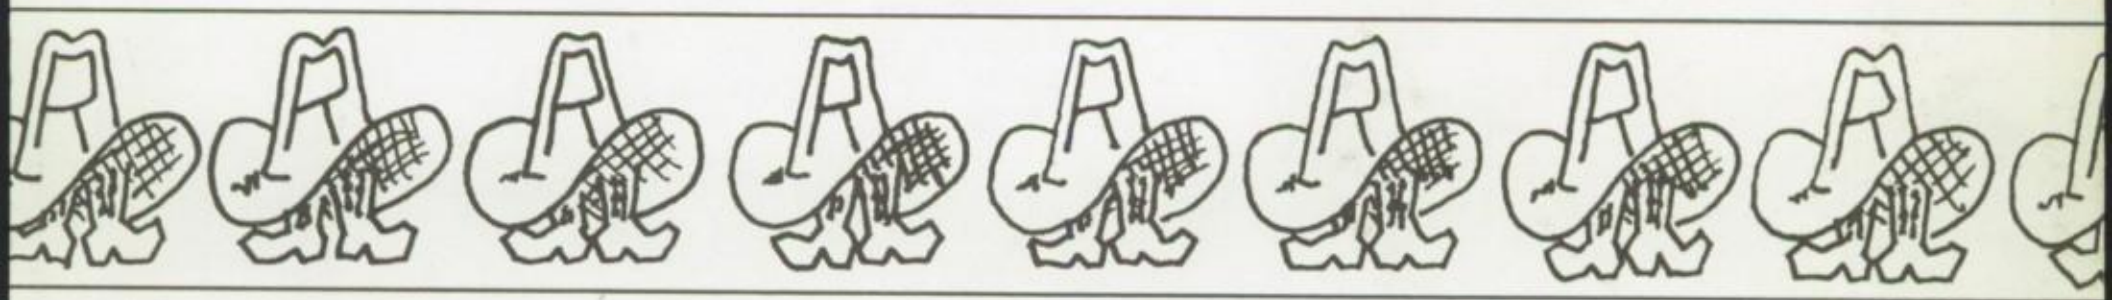
After the sunshine,
After the brilliant drops of spashed water,
And sleeping until noon
or getting up at dawn and hiking to Sabino
For a picnic breakfast.
After the barefeet,
After the long hours of lying on the grass
And making pictures of the clouds
Or planning a trip to Mexico with a friend.
The alarm rings.
Abrutly the peace of summer is broken.
The flash of color, the blur of faces,
The confused rush of voices,
The sound of coke machines coming to life,
Our dreams pushed ahead to reality.
Caught in a maze of people,
Sharing moments of happiness and truth . . . . . A tableau of Rincon High School.



New ideas, new people await,
but memories crowd the mind.
Spirit lags, the mind withdraws
. . . a dormant time.

Within the empty corridor grows an interest in another—the beginning of concern.

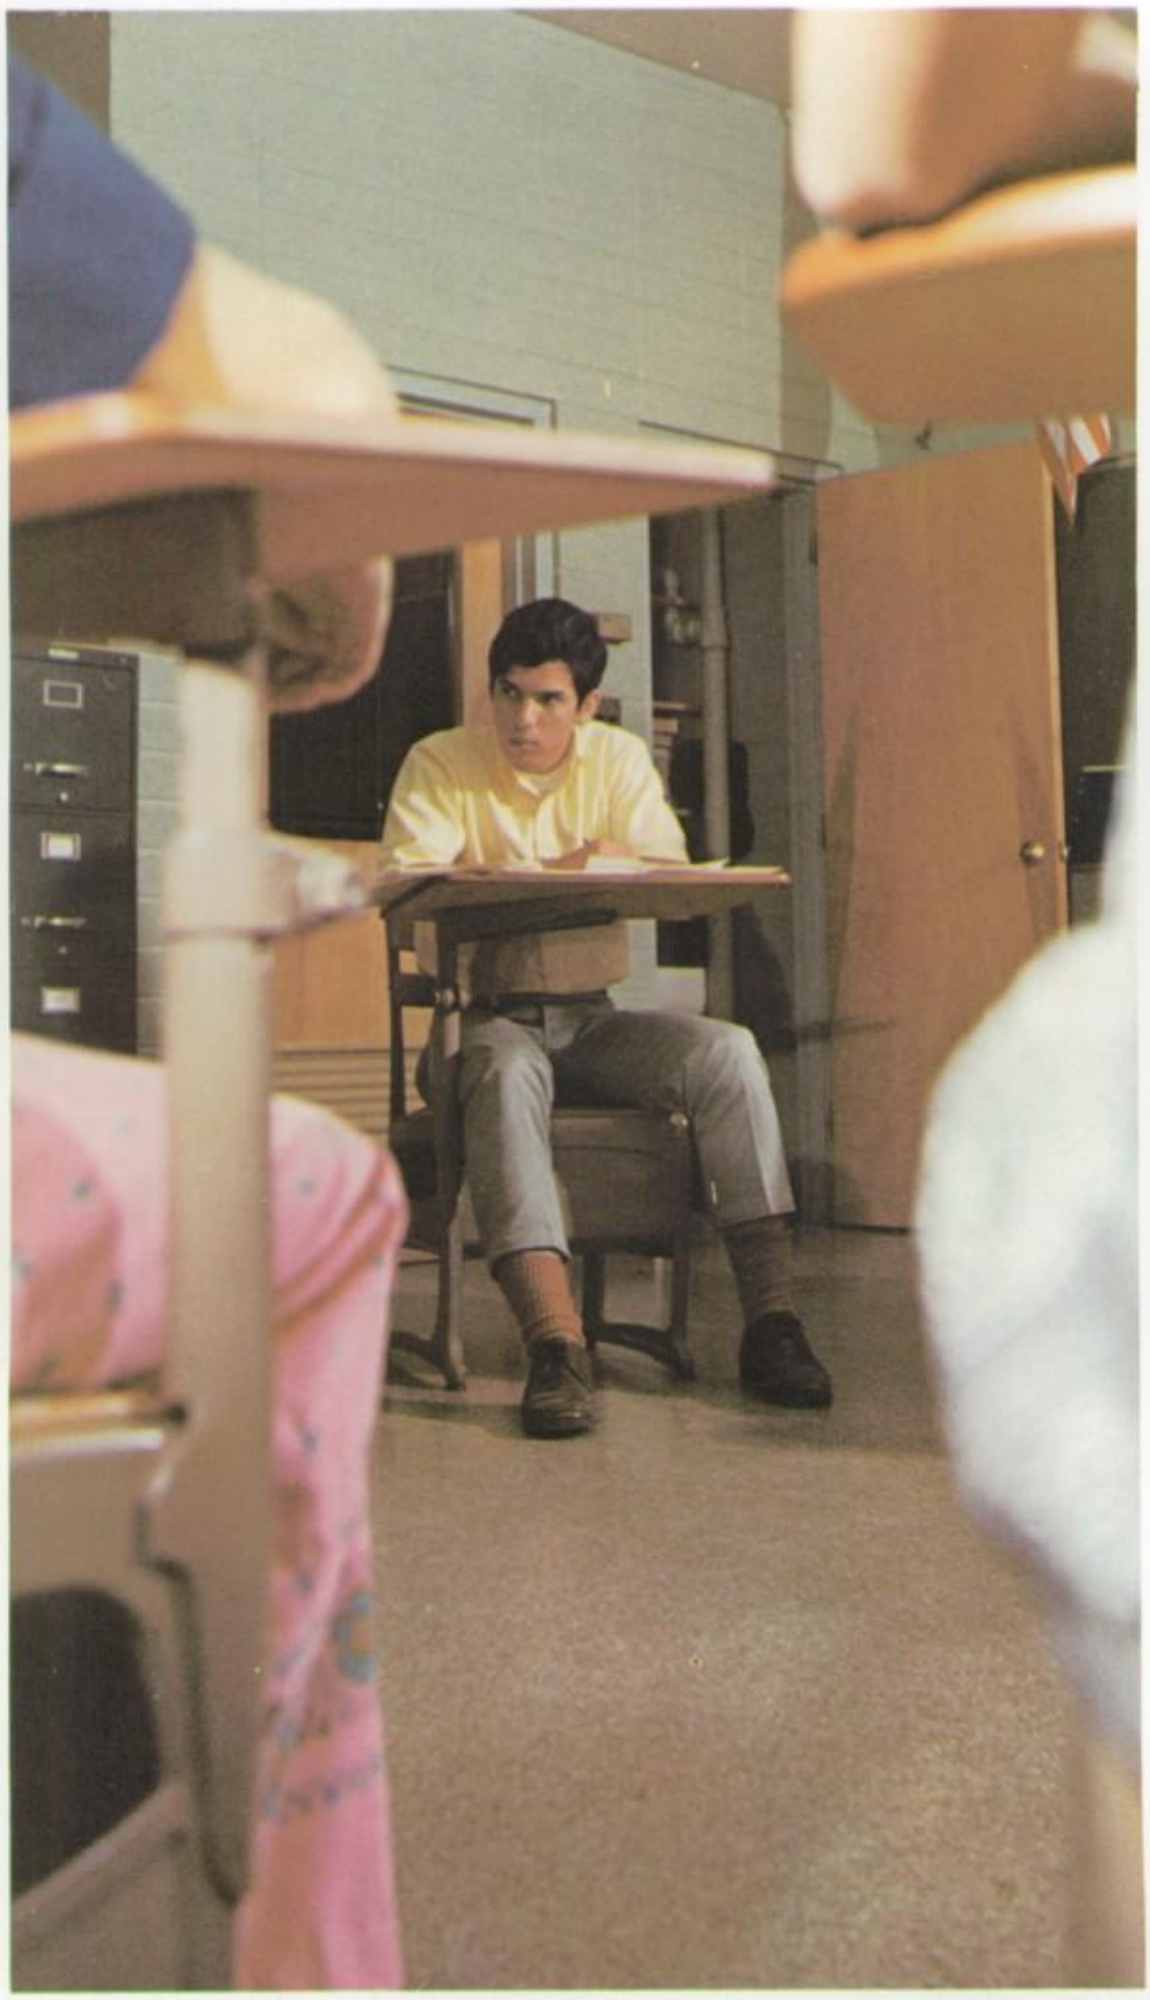
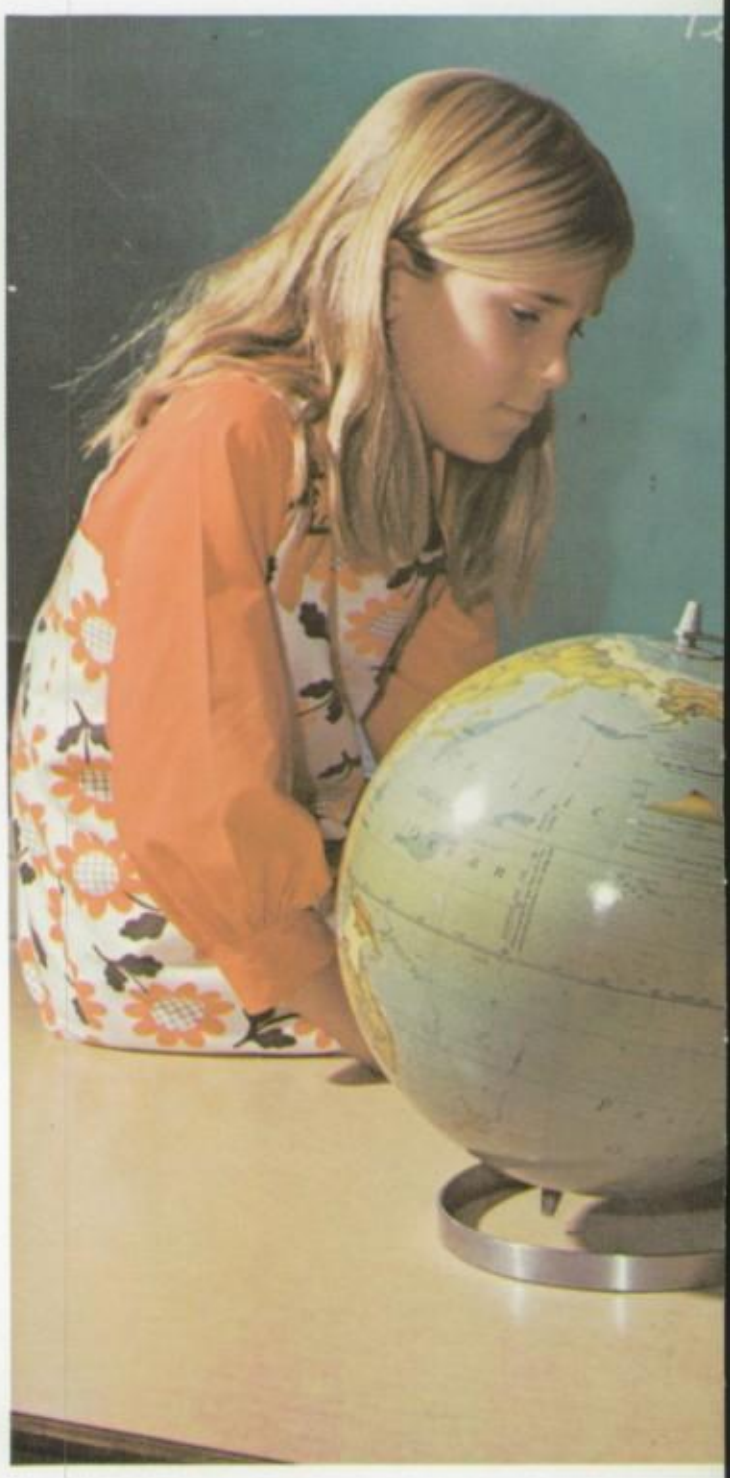
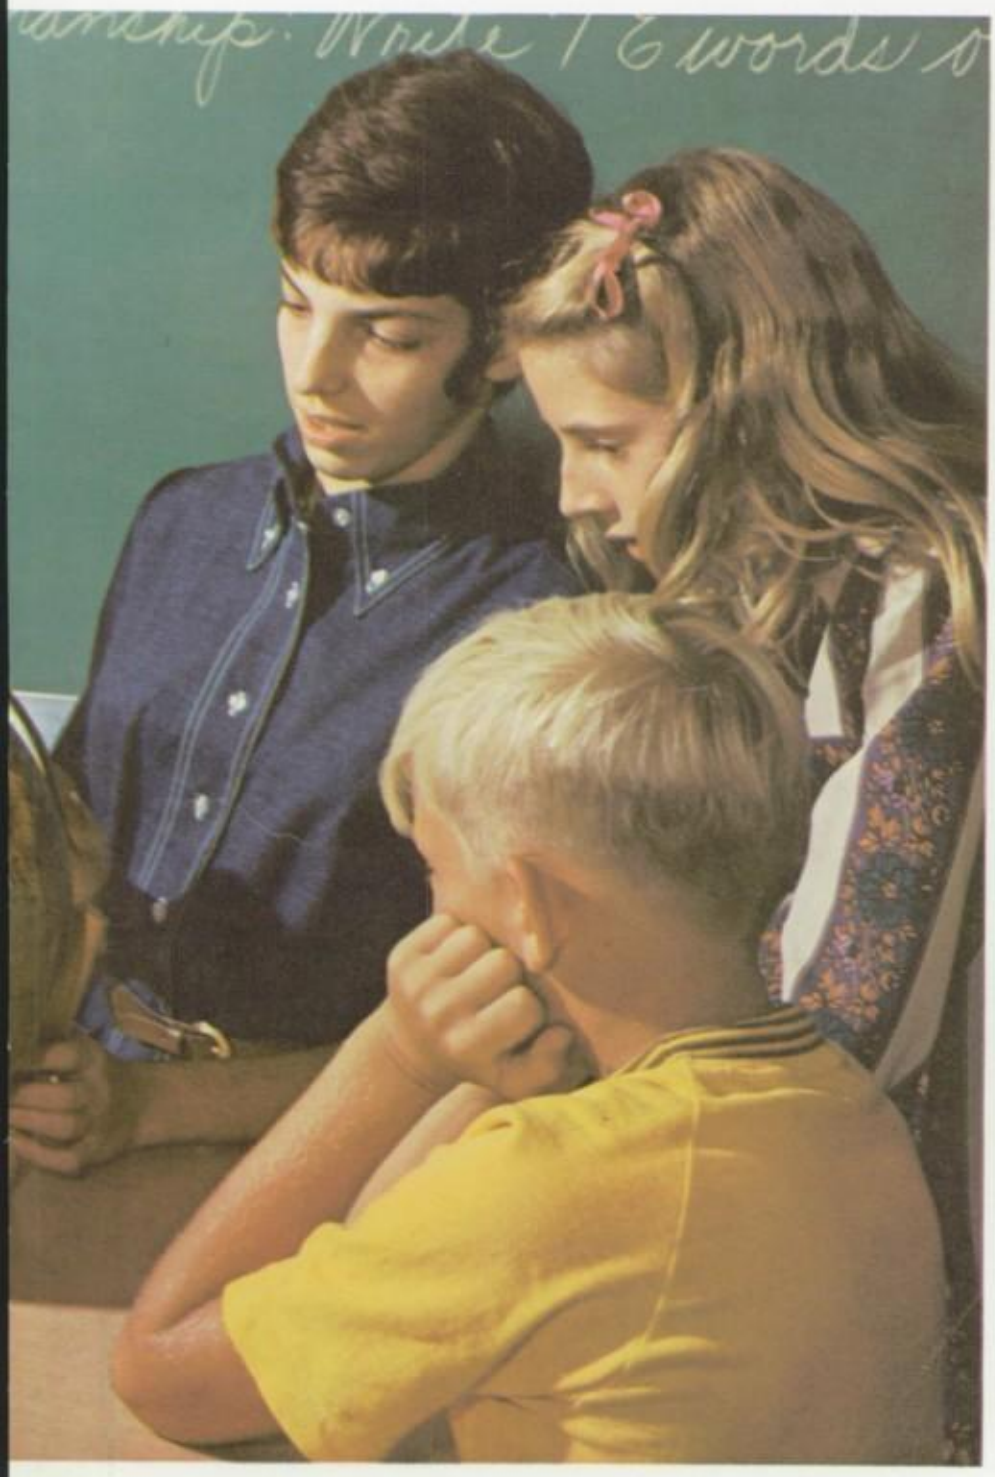
EXIT

The spirit responds—the spark within you brings alive a taste of excitement for living.



New ideas, new people,
a time of excitement;
involvement with others.





The story of our people, the mixture of impressions: you learn, grow, depend upon each other, become aware of the completeness of being together.

Once upon a time . . .

"Have a nice day" beamed from hundreds of bumper stickers boasting the famous Ranger slogan. The bumper stickers were supplied and distributed by Girls' League. This club also kept up a fast pace with the annual Simplicity fashion show, featuring student models.

Wide-eyed freshmen enjoyed their first taste of Rincon night life at the all school mixer and then raced into election week, choosing Diane Grobelch, Joe Flannery, Robin Milbern and Carol Engholm as their officers. Seniors received their first taste of college life on Senior Day at the U. of A.

When cinnamon crinkled days touched our lives,

Shorts, broken benches, singing in the halls, and fake gun fights were a few of the milder events that took place during Lettermen's initiation week. This started the exciting football season off with a bang! Hundreds of students filled the stands to cheer the team on to victory; however, the spirit didn't always get through to the players.

To keep minds off schoolwork, the Media Club organized an egg-eating contest during both lunches. The tradition of being excused from English class for picture taking interrupted the everyday schedule of underclassmen.

The campus was ringing with the slogan "Contain Litter" during S. T.A.R.T. Week at Rincon. Inspired by The Four Garbage Men, Rincon spent a week reaping quantities of trash, to lay at the feet of Trash King Don Ledbetter and Trash Queen Sue Wilson. Trash cans were redone as tomato soup cans, beer cans, and art masterpieces. Mr. Wolf's art class created a silk-screen design to adorn shirts and posters around campus.

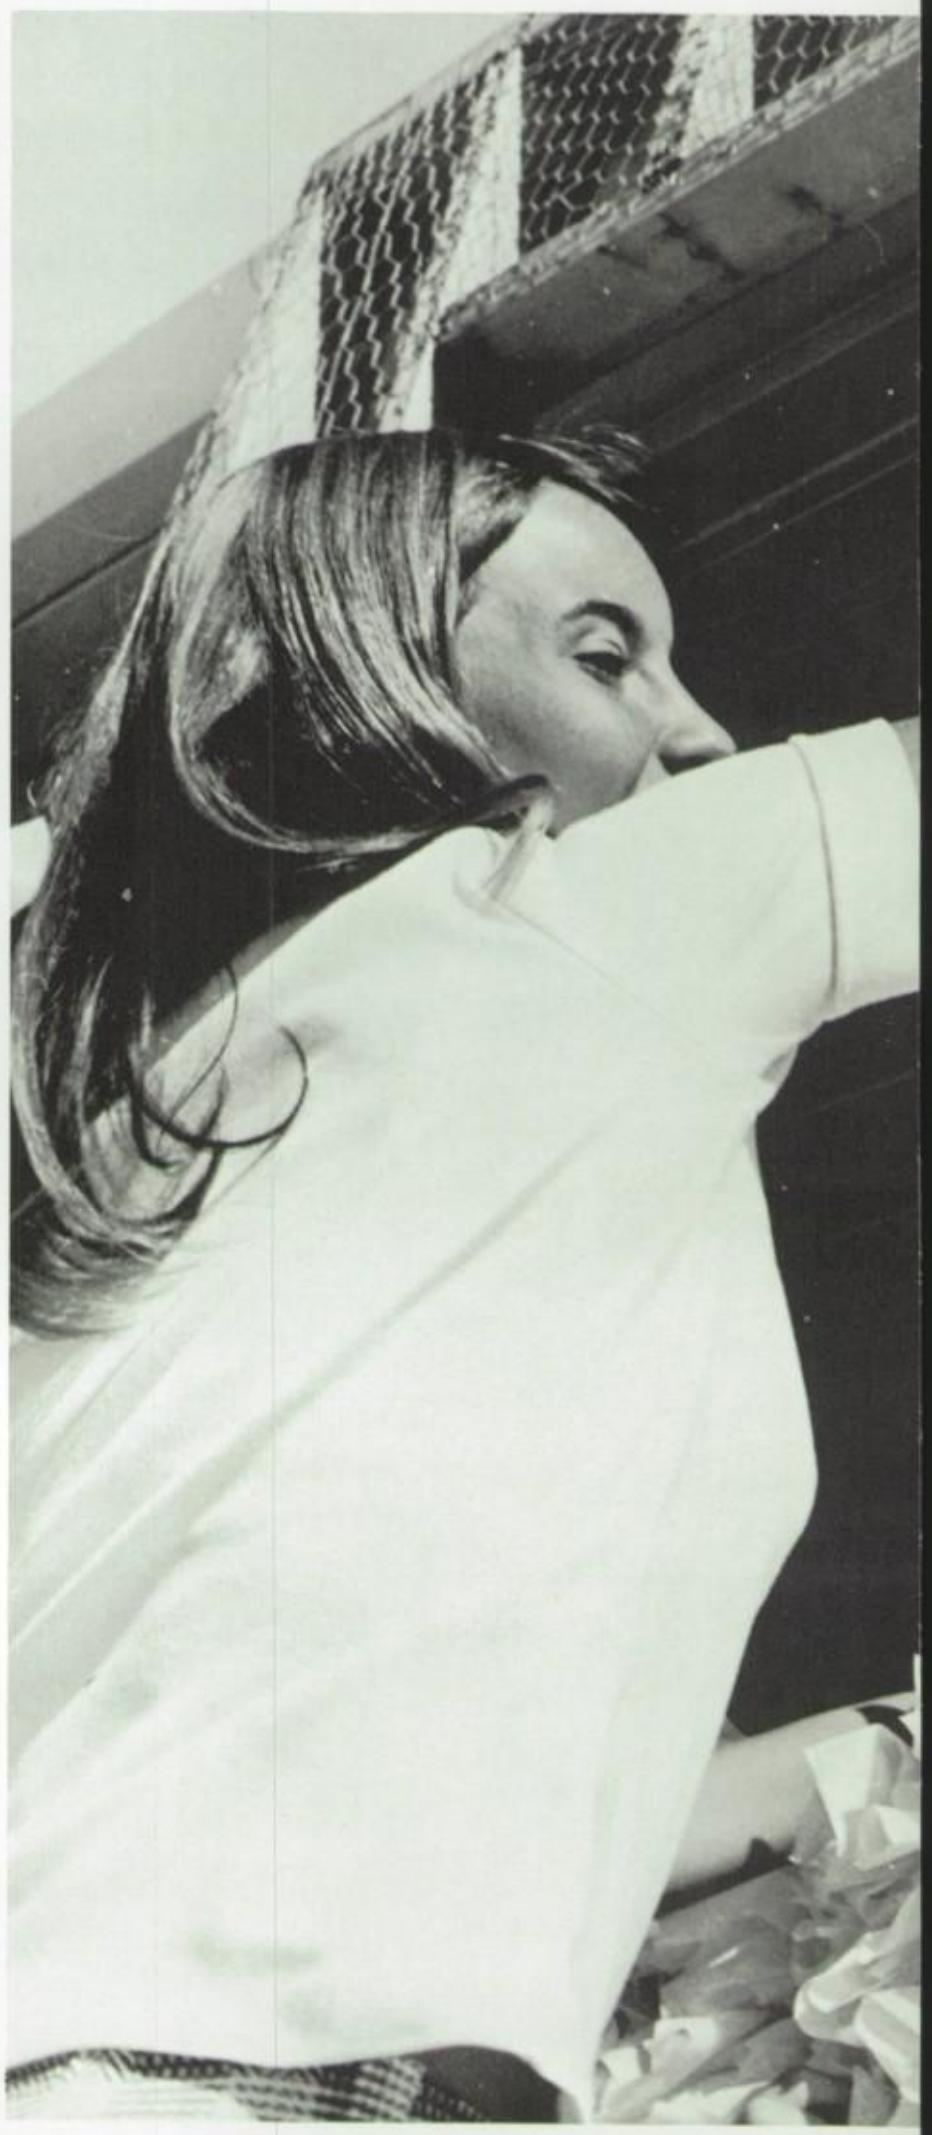
Week. Left: Enthusiasm over trash week is displayed by a creative trash can being painted by Becky Beach and other freshmen. Above: Trash King and Queen, Don Ledbetter and Sue Wilson won their fame by collecting the most garbage.



Many vital truths were discovered during Homecoming Week. Joel Ireland was elected Ugly Man proving the rumors that the cross country team has the ugliest men on campus. Students discovered thier hidden talents and created homecoming floats. These were paraded during a pep assembly and after a few minor disasters, they finished and the senior float won first place.

There was much controversy over the Homecoming Queen election, but Susan Warfield was elected in spite of it all.

We took each moment for the love it had to share.

Oodles of noodles and gallons of sauce were prepared and consumed at the Second Annual Spaghetti Dinner, sponsored by the Rincon choral groups. Success was evident as parents, friends and relatives left happy and full.

Success was also the key note on Band Day at the U. of A., when the Rincon Marching Band received its thirteenth straight Superior rating.

Mo Udall and Morris Herring, contenders for the Representatives' seat, starred in the first optional assembly at Rincon. Jeff Smith opened a series of political awareness assemblies with information on politics and newspapers.

In addition to being involved in politics, the students had their share of social life. The Sophomore class sponsored the Halloween mixer.

Phil Newman and Fred Kuhn displayed their long undiscovered unicycle riding talents during S.T. A.R.T. Week to lunch audiences.

deep within those around us.

Watch out! The faculty is on the move again winning the Senior-Faculty game 42-39. The game proved to be very funny. The Lettermen songleaders and cheerleaders were great strippers. Pom pons in the basket and elastic around it were just a few of the tricks the seniors tried, but the faculty was victorious.

After the first home basketball game a mixer was held with Salpointe students invited. This mixer was sponsored by the Latin Club.

Christmas time found Rincon drowning in goodwill and canned foods. The food drive spurred class competition as each tried to collect the most. The food was then distributed to underprivileged and the needy of Tucson.

About 400 wide-eyed Carrillo school children enjoyed the Letterman's annual Christmas party. With the help of songleaders and cheerleaders, toys and candy were given to children who otherwise would have no Christmas.

All-in-all, first semester events hardly left students time to catch a breath!

"Turn-about" most accurately described the Rincon-Amphi halftime show. Songleaders, cheerleaders, and twirlers traded positions and devised routines.

Another switch was noted at the January Girl's League meeting. Dar Lu came to Rincon with wigs, jewelry, and the latest fashions to produce a fashion show with members of Girl's League Council as models.

Although the highlight of DECA's Sweetheart dance was to elect this year's "sweetheart", the dance also helped to raise funds and provide entertainment for the student body.

The collective efforts of Media classes and Media Club were displayed to the public during the Annual Film Festival. The mixture of humor and social comments displayed the varying personalities of the directors and the creators.

The title of Rawhide Queen was given to Linda Thompson this year. Her all-aspiring Rawhide King was Don Porter.

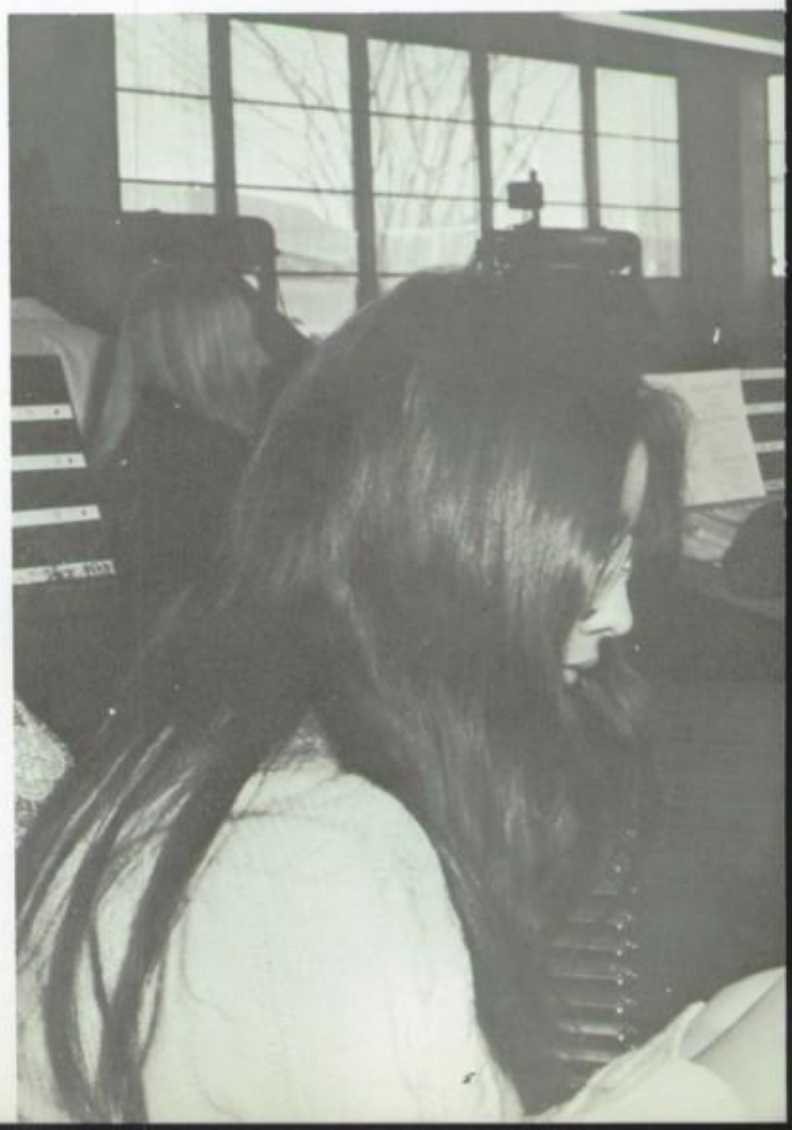
Festival.



Melting into golden pots, dreamed-then lost.

Fine arts students created an evening of drama, dance, art, and music for the entertainment of their parents and their friends. The opening night was a sellout.

Rincon students enjoyed a visit from an Up with People group. Not only did they perform at Rincon, but they sang at other local high schools and at two evening performances. performances.

Rangers have made themselves known through many creative endeavors this year. The tie-buying public was given a larger selection of wares thanks to ambitious students. Others "did their own thing" simply through their attire, notably more relaxed since last year's dress code revision. Expression in artwork, drama, and music provided an outlet for tensions or just to keep from getting bored. Media classes gave students a chance to try their hands at film-making and other types of communication.

Channeling creative energy.

Some students managed, even in the confusion and haste, to find peaceful moments at Rincon. To work and rest quietly was a welcome change for those who became tired of over-crowded and noisy halls. The senior patio was a haven for upperclassmen to exchange ideas and spend free time, just as the library and study halls were for underclassmen. Other Rangers found their own special places where they could be separated from the tensions of school.

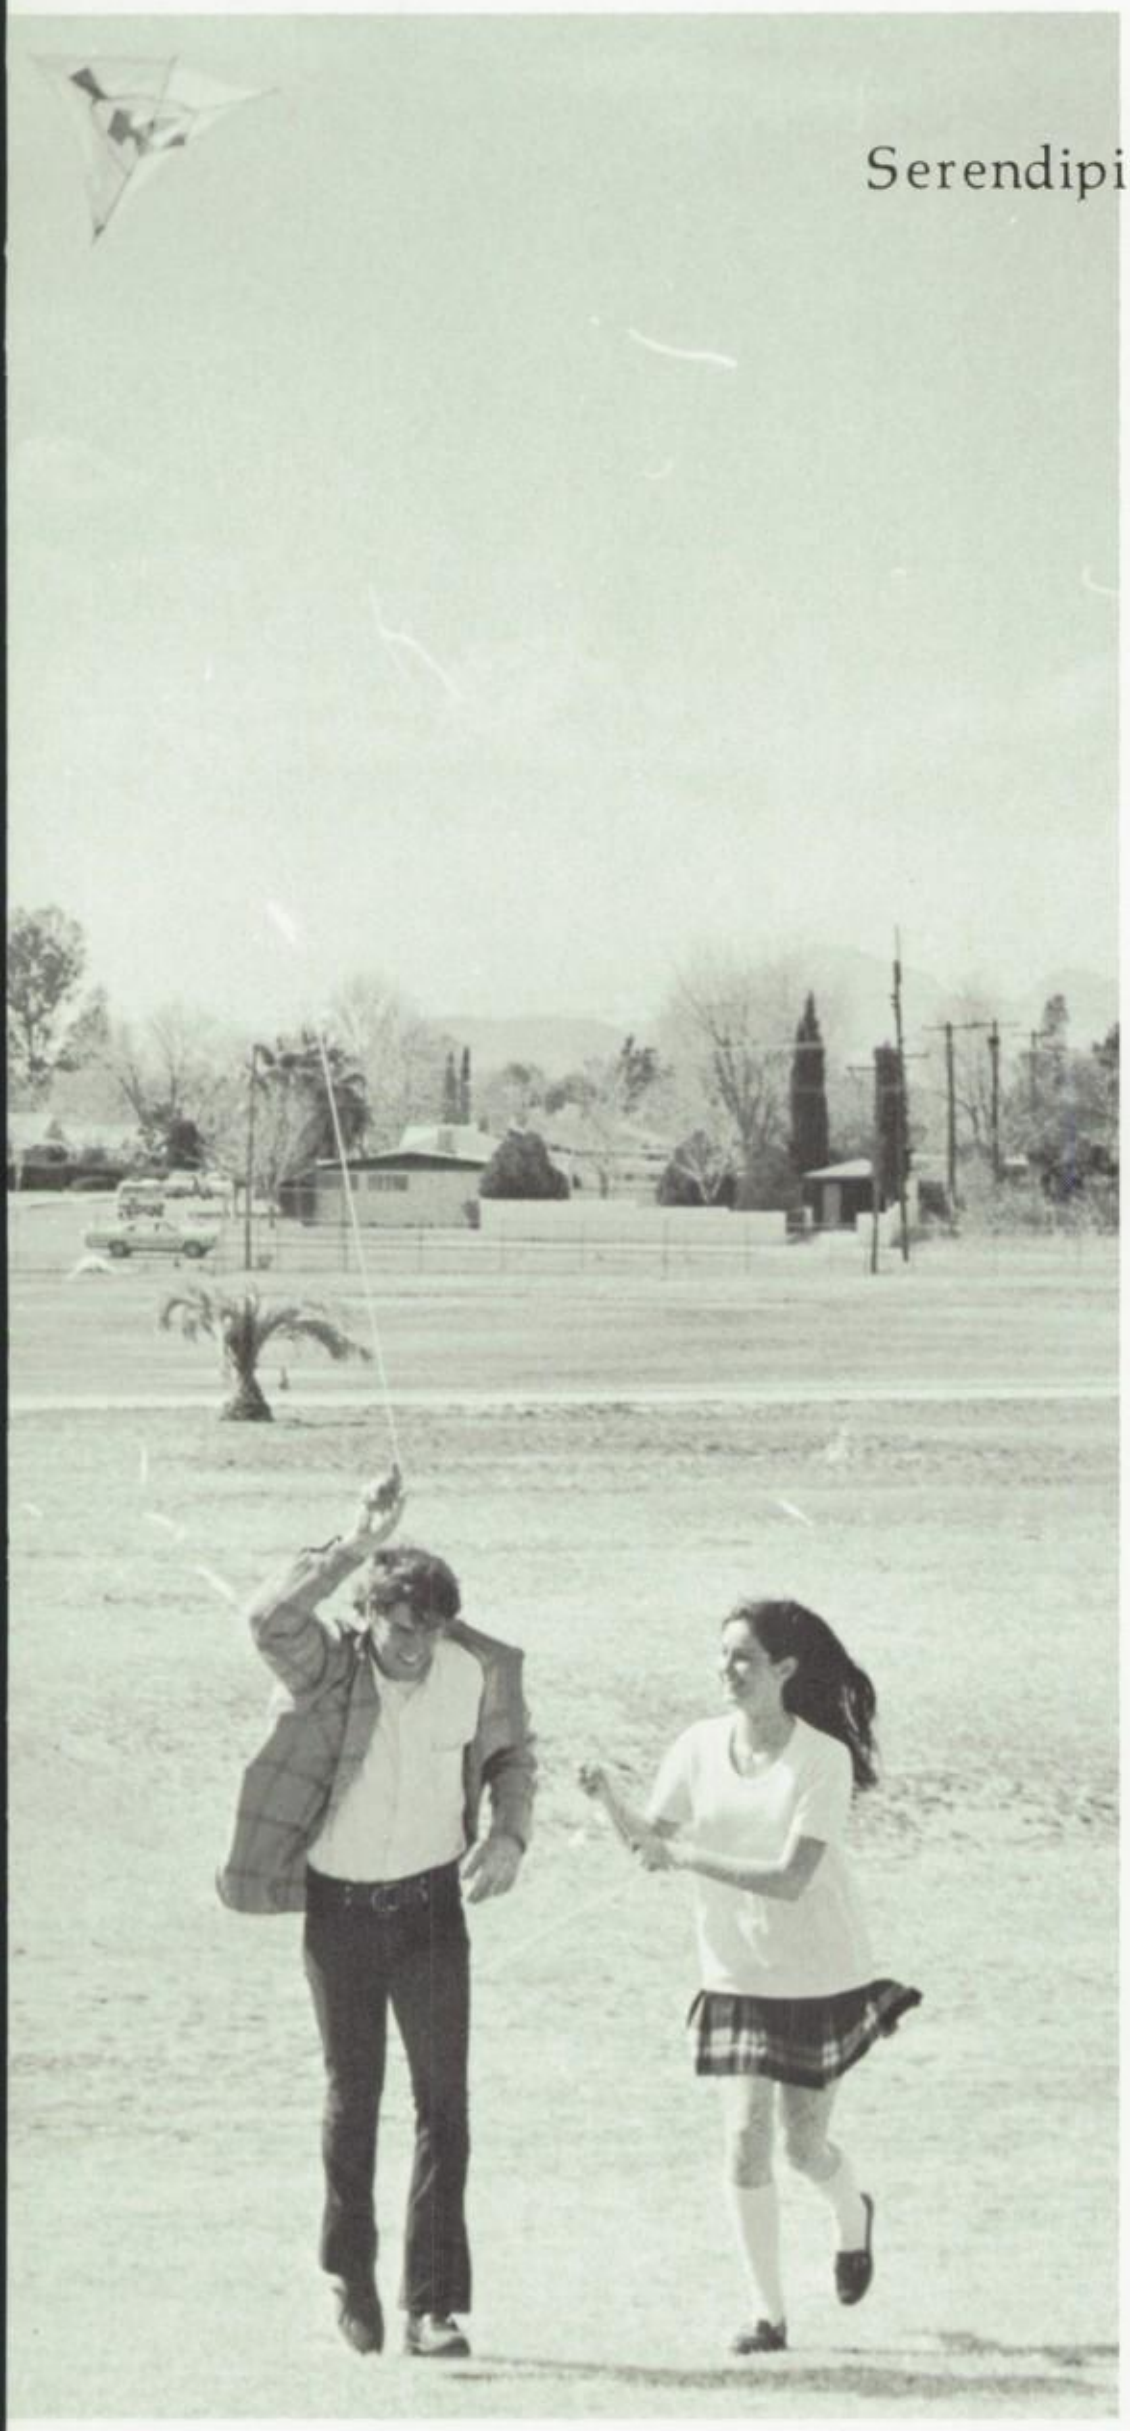
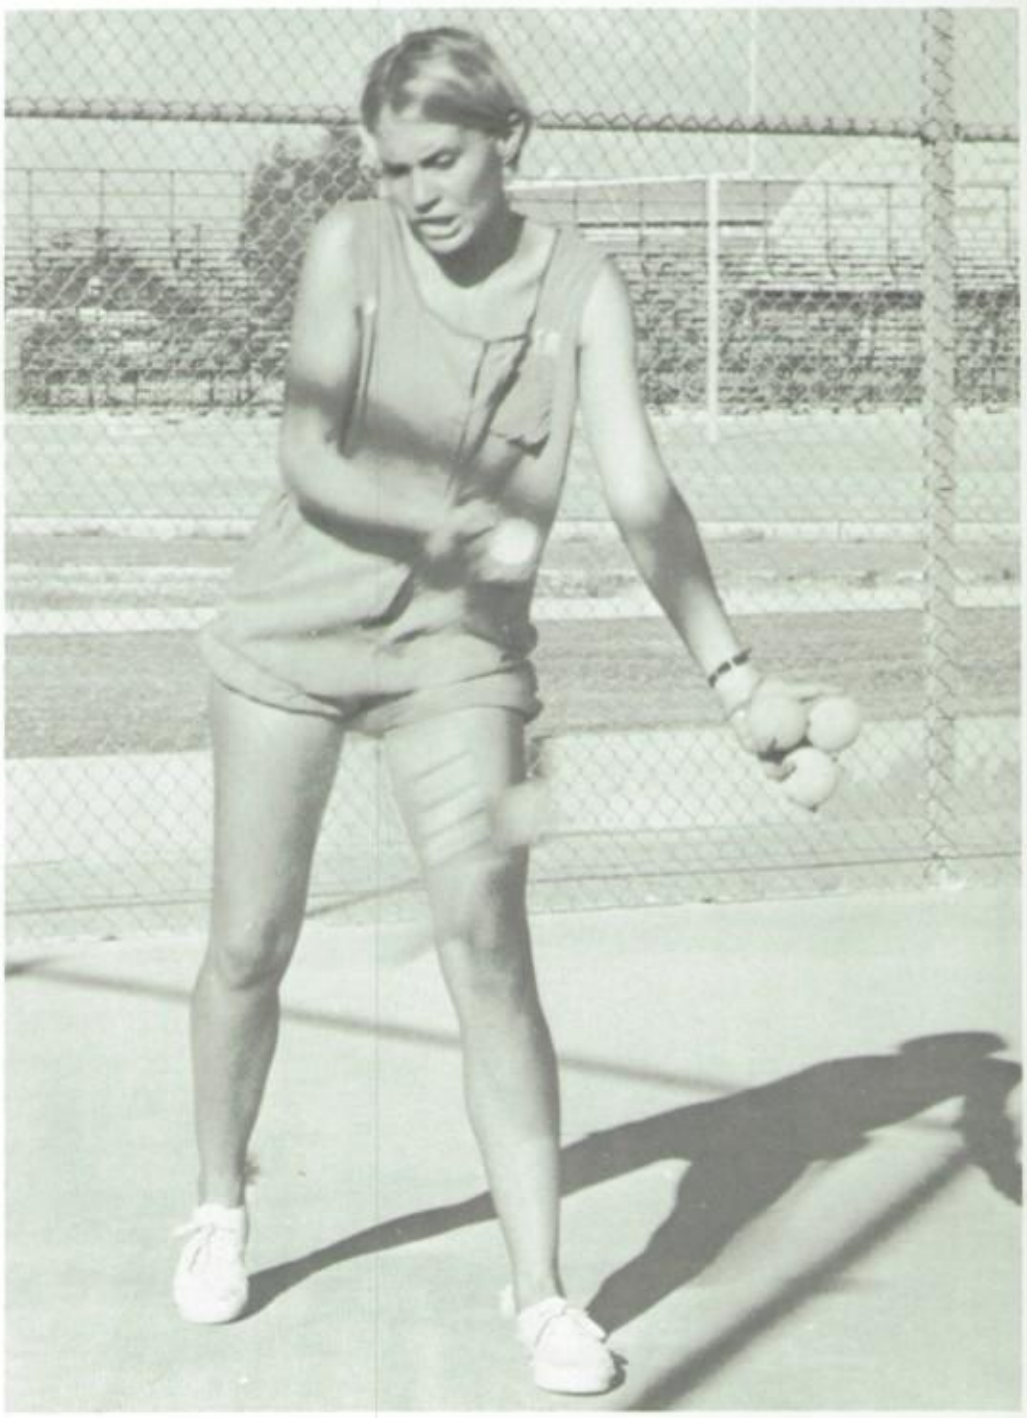
Serendipity.



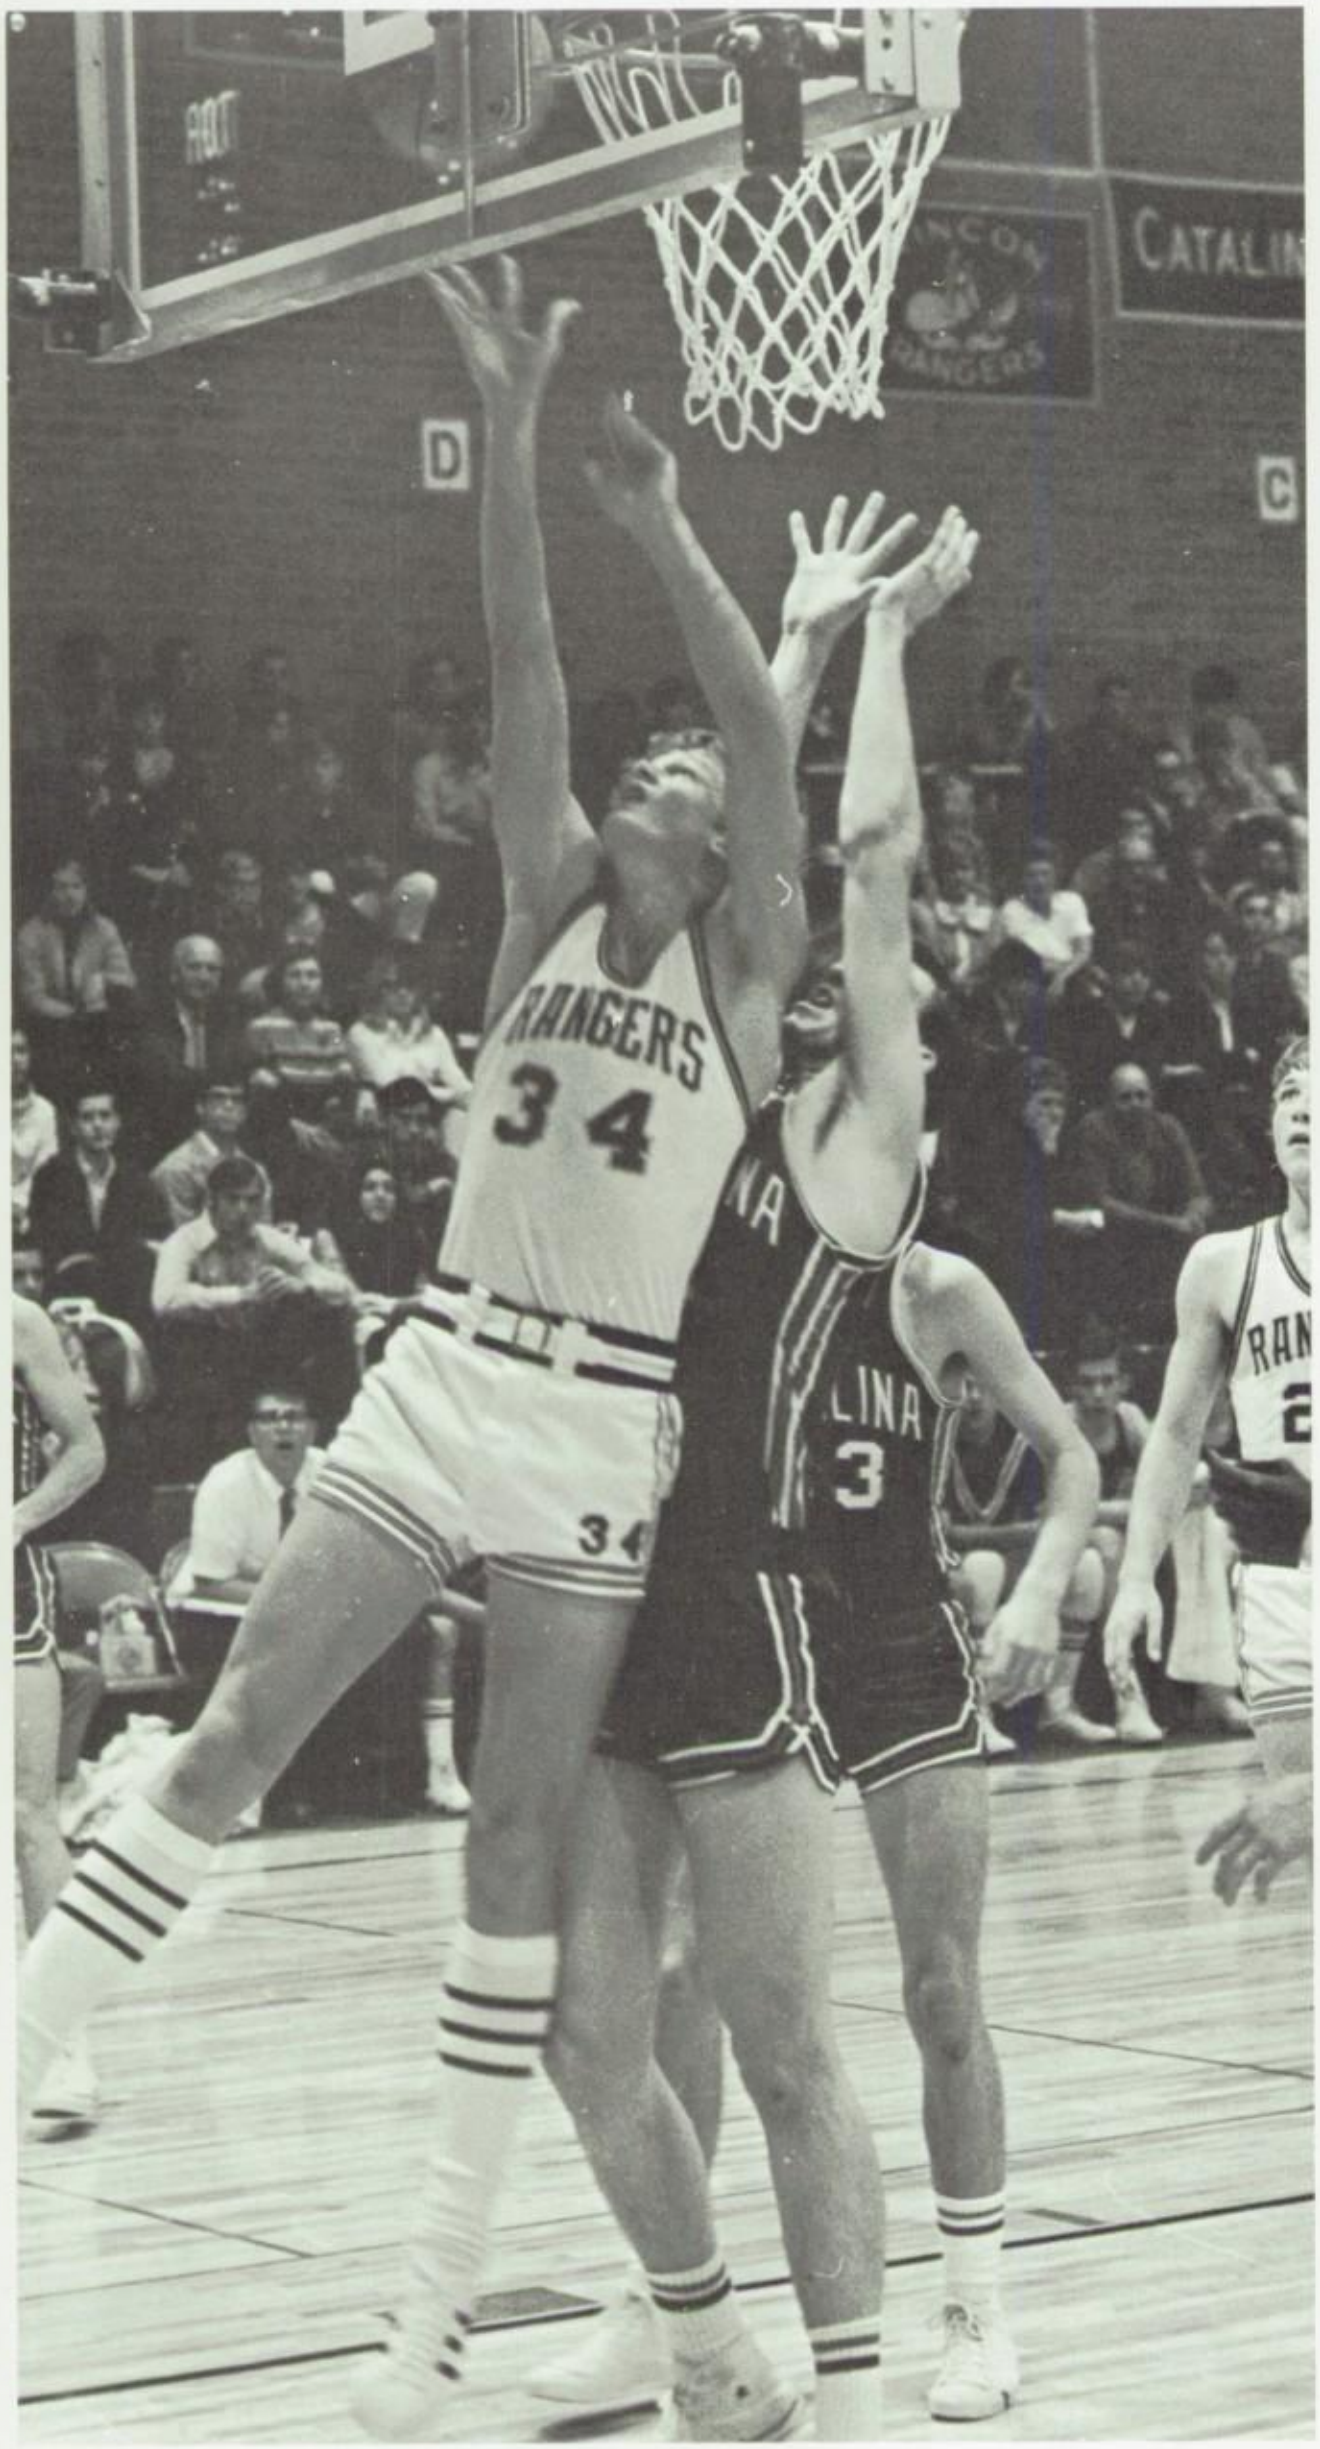
Rodeo parade time found Rincon with many original entries, SCOPE, DECA, and Latin Club marched along with the songleaders, cheerleaders and band. Close behind them came the Lettermen heaving a float which carried the Rodeo Queen and her four attendants.

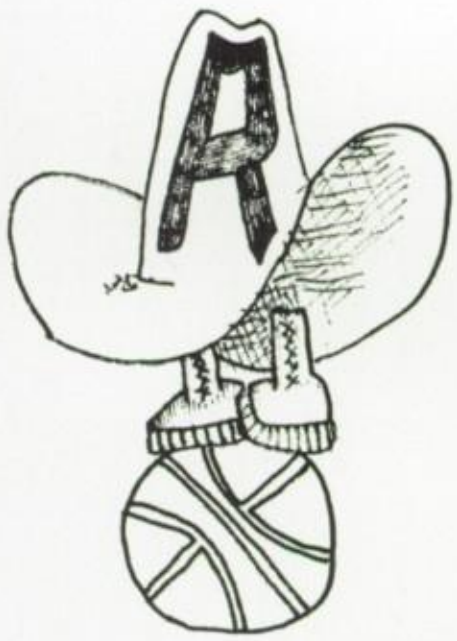
"On a blustery day" was the theme of this year's TWIRP Week. A week of girl-ask-boy activities included everything from a kite flying contest to a semi-formal dance to close the week.

At the close of the school year, the student body observed the solemn Baccalaureate service and graduation of several hundred nervous seniors.



SPORTS





In the midst of defeat, a shining moment.

Hopes for a winning season were not realized at Rincon this year. Plagued by injuries and a weak offense, the Rangers were unable to gain victory until mid-season. Led by quarterback Ralph Valdez, the city's top passer with 1117 yards, Rincon came back to win its last four games. Seniors Marty Capanna, Tom Green, and Harold Pittman also offered outstanding performances.

The Ranger defense constantly forced punts, fumbles, and interceptions. The team captains Phil Gambrell and John Ross contributed greatly to the strong defense, but Mike Shannon was the key man. Playing both the fullback and defensive end positions, he guided the Rangers to a 4-5 season record.

Rincon played its 1970 season opener hosting a determined Pueblo team. An early lead was attained by Rincon on a 45 yard interception and runback by Senior John Ross. Quarterback Ralph Valdez heightened the lead with a 3 yard run.

After the half, leading 16 to 6, Rincon was unable to move the ball. Despite the efforts of the strong Ranger defensive unit, Pueblo managed to score. The Warriors won the game by recovering a blocked punt in the endzone. The final score was 18-16.

Upon meeting Salpointe, the Rangers received their worst defeat for the season. Rincon's defense was able to contain the Lancers to 7 points, up until the fourth quarter. Despite those efforts, the offense couldn't put it together for even one score, making the result 21-0.

Striving from defeat, onward toward victory.

Rincon played its third game on a wet Catalina field. The Rangers were upset by fumbles and interceptions, but held the Trojans to 7 points until the third quarter. The lone Rincon score came in the fourth quarter on a 45 yard scamper by Junior Bruce Hitchye. The Rangers lost the game 21-6.

Palo Verde came to Rincon to meet their traditional rivals for the "Traveling Trophy." Rincon opened the scoring on a 65 yard punt return by Sophomore Jeff Farmer. The Titans came back in the fourth quarter to take a lead. The Rangers lost the game 12-8, when they were unable to make a touchdown from the 1 yard line on a first and goal.

Following their very close loss to the Titans, the Rangers were confronted by undefeated Tucson High. The Badgers jumped to an early lead in the first quarter. Rincon scored once on a short run by senior Marty Capana. The Ranger defense finally settled down, but not soon enough as the Badgers won 28-6.

Rincon gained its first victory against the Sahuaro Cougars. The Ranger offense, led by sophomore Jesse Parker, dominated the ball, compiling a 33-6 halftime lead. The Rincon drive cooled off as the Cougars fought to gain the lead. But their efforts just fell short as Rincon went on to win the game 42-36.

Though a predicted loser, Rincon's next opponent proved to be a worthy one. Sunnyside was the first to score and led at halftime. However, the Blue Devils couldn't hold up under the attacks administered by Rincon's second half strategy. Rincon won the game leading Sunnyside 26-18.

The Douglas Bulldogs came to Rincon to play for the twelfth Annual Ranger Homecoming. Ralph Valdez connected with Bruce Hitchye for three Rincon T.D.s. That, combined with the running of Marty Capana and the defensive playing of Jim Weathers, led to Rincon's third victory, 32-6.

Rincon closed its season chosen as underdog to the Amphi Panthers. The two teams exchanged touchdowns early in the first quarter, the Ranger score coming on a Ralph Valdez pass to Jesse Parker in the endzone. The two point conversion was made on another pass from Valdez to Paul Hammond. After a third quarter Panther score, Bruce Hitchye saved the game for the Rangers by taking still another Valdez pass to win their final game, 14-12.

Pressing onward to meet their ultimate goal.

Rincon's junior varsity had a successful season this year, ranking third in the city. The 28-6 win over Tucson High and the 22-34 loss to Sahuaro determined Rincon's placing. The J.V.'s compiled seven wins and only suffered two losses during the season.

Offensive strength was achieved with the leadership of fullback Rod Kubiak and quarterback Tim Vesely. Defensive stamina was made possible by the efforts of defensive end Robert Pain, tackle Gary Savlov, and safety Craig Edminister.

Andy Rumic and Morris Schmeider expect a fine Junior Varsity team for 71, due to the large number of fine athletes present on the Freshman and Junior Varsity teams this year.

Rincon's Varsity cross country team finished thier season with a 5-2 record. Team captain Joel Ireland led the team in points and earned a position on the All City Team. Senior Kurt Decker scored high enough at divisionals to qualify for interdivisional meet held at Phoenix.

The Junior Varsity squad had a 4-3 season. Top men for the J.V.'s were Eric Grossman and Jim Shea; both will lend strength to next year's Varsity.

This year's team was the first undefeated basketball team in Rincon's history. Following the first game, Rincon was ranked number one by the A.P. poll, an honor which they justified by their nineteen straight victories throughout the regular season of basketball.

Rincon's great success was due to the experience of the squad. Kevin Kinkade, Robert Taylor, and Paul Hammond were all starters on last year's team. All season senior Kevin Kinkade and junior Gary Allen competed for the honor of second highest scorer in the city. Kinkade made his mark with great inside moves and Allen with his accuracy outside. But the year's big surprise came in the form of senior Don Porter. Having seen little action on the varsity squad last year, he worked hard all summer to improve his game. The work payed ing rebounder as well as an outstanding defensive performer.

Rincon's first nine games were against six non-league opponents who were crushed by the overpowering Ranger basketball machine. Perhaps the toughest of those six teams was Palo Verde, which was also undefeated until it fell before the mighty Rincon guns.

The Tucson High Badgers traveled to Rincon for a league for the teams. Although the Badgers managed to tie the game up several times, they were never ahead of the Rangers in points. The game was quite close until the final seconds when, amidst a rash of fouls, Don Porter made one free throw and Paul Hammond tipped in the second to give the Rangers the winning edge.

The next five games including an easier defeat of the Badgers, were quite easily come by. The Rangers met Sahuaro's Cougars on their home court. The Cougars were out for the important upset as they stayed with the Rangers persistently. Near the end of the game, Sahuaro pulled ahead and only Kevin Kinkade's one second jumper, which threw the game into overtime, saved the Rangers. The two teams evenly paced each other for two overtime periods. Finally in the third overtime, Paul Hammond made a crucial steal and lay up to win the game.

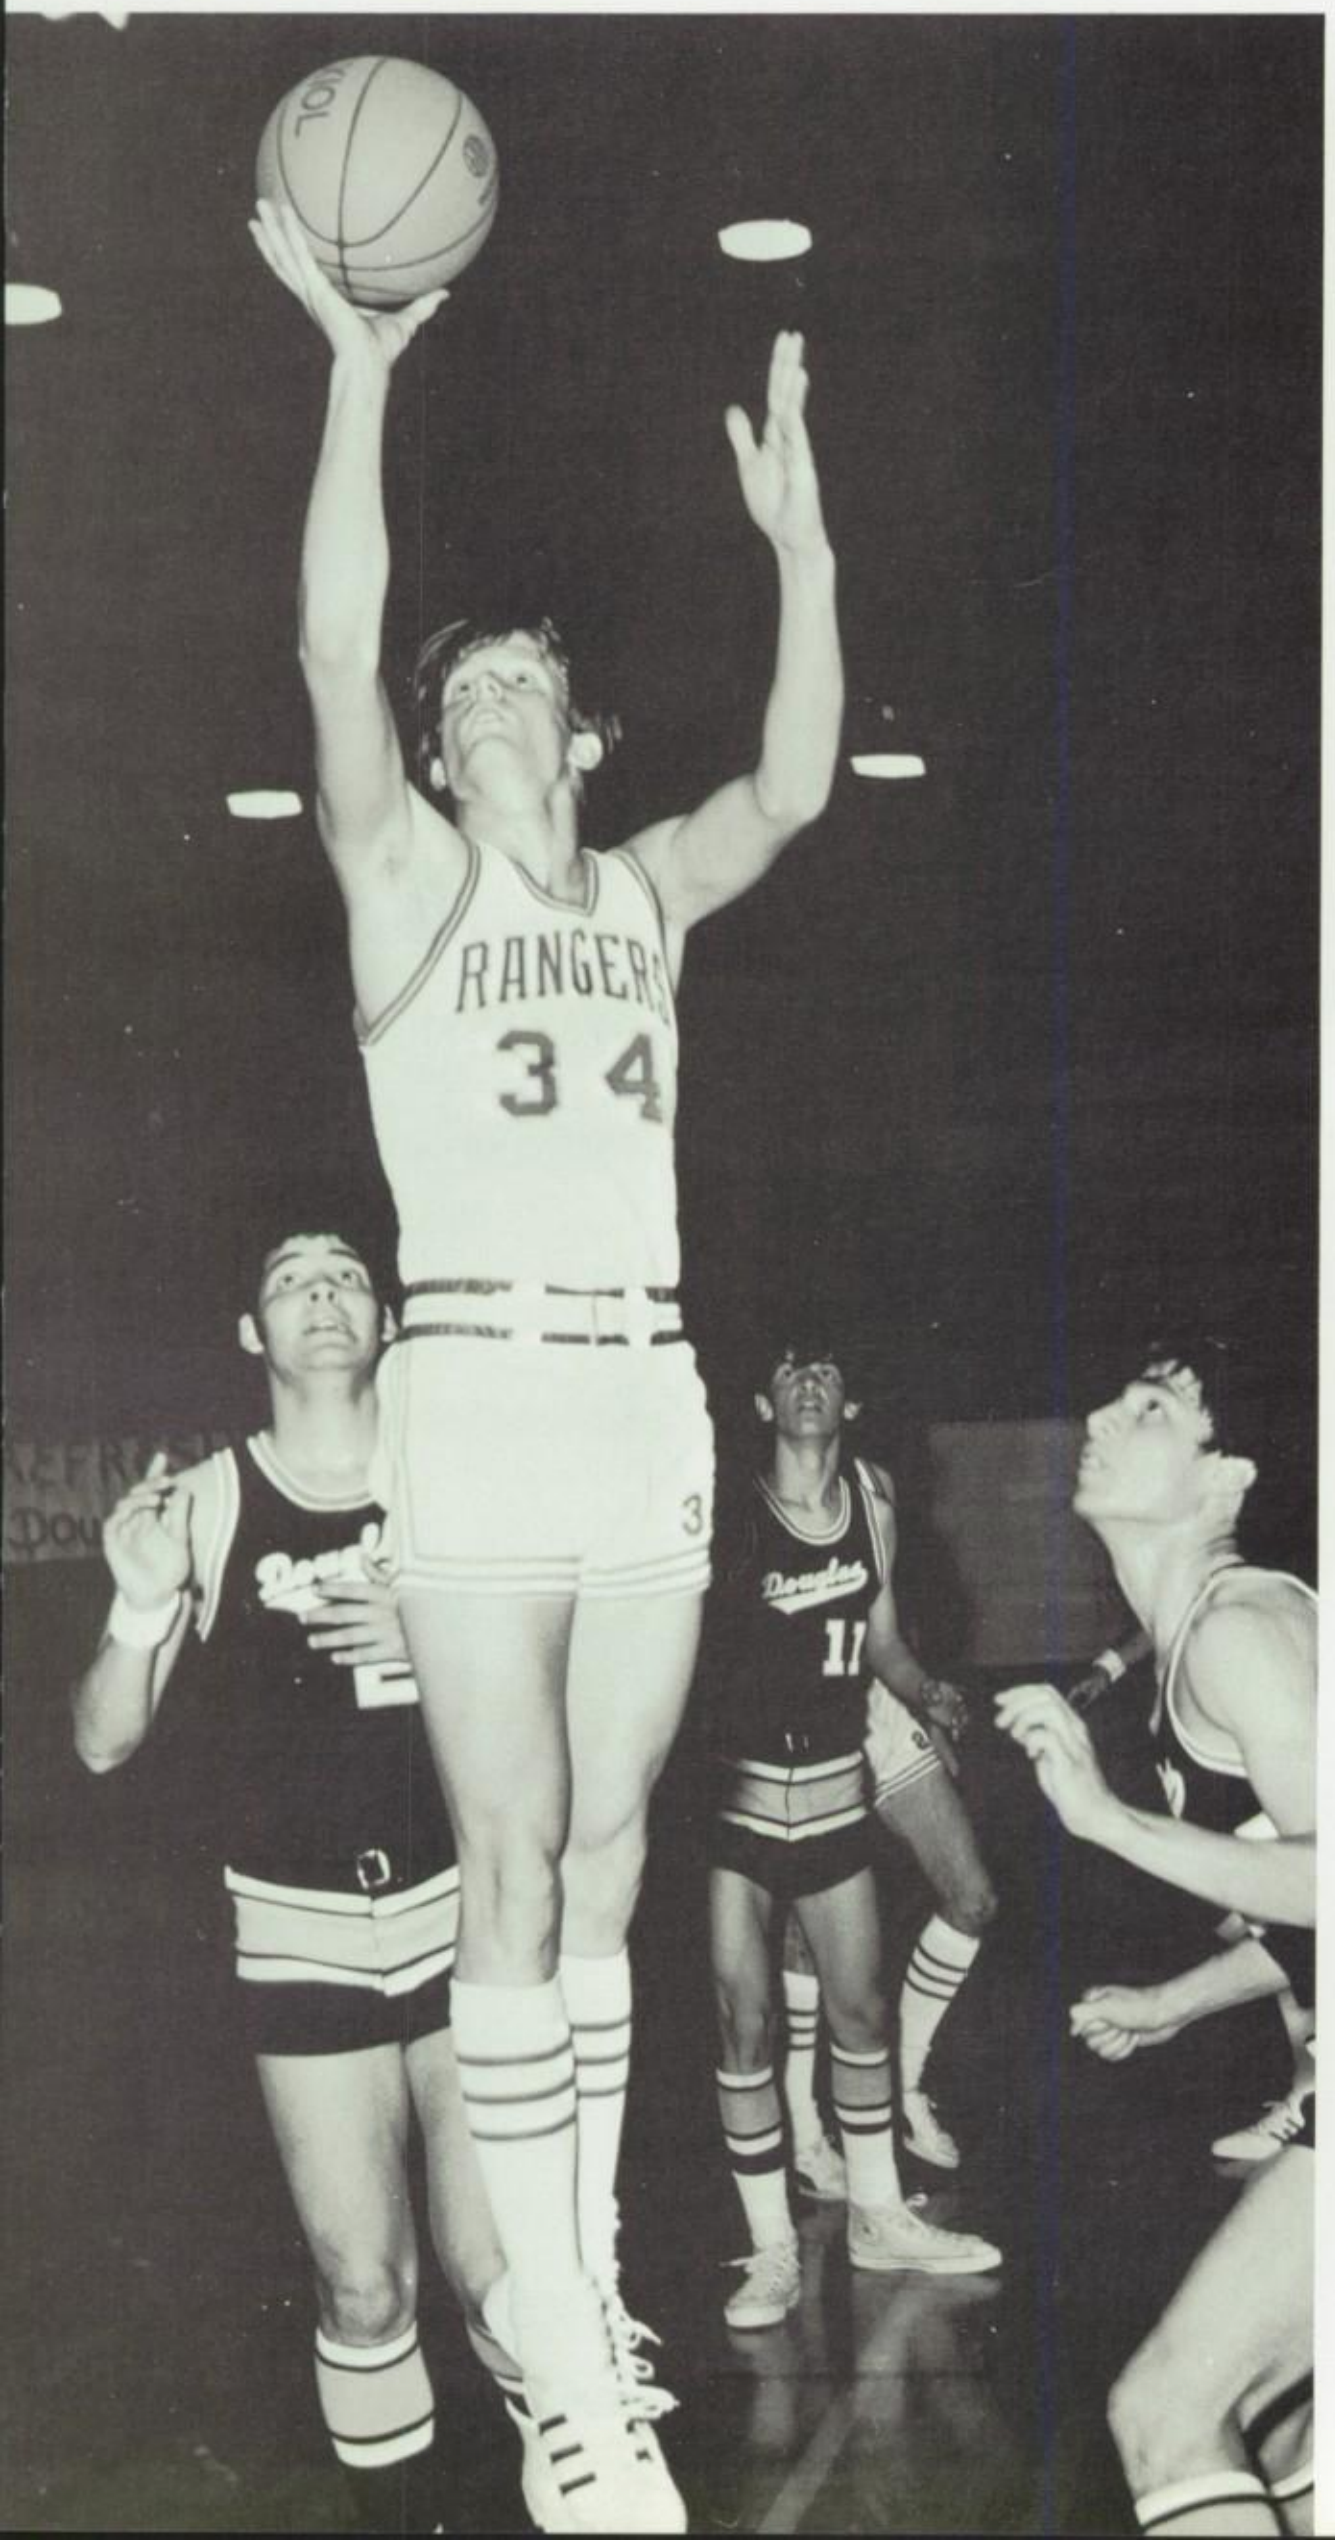
Hours of intense effort, lost in a moment.



Rincon faced Salpointe in the first part of the Southern AAA tournament. Led by Gary Allen, who made 27 points, the Rangers blew the game wide open when they made 13 straight points in the second quarter. The team's reserves all got a chance to play as the Lancers took a severe beating and fell, 92-60.

The next evening, the Rangers played Catalina, who had pulled off an amazing upset over Sahuaro and were planning the same for Rincon. But the Rangers were fired up from the sounding of the opening buzzer as they humilated the outclassed Trojans 87-47. This was Rincon's twenty-first straight victory and earned them a position in the AAA State Tournament held in Phoenix.

The Rangers traveled to Phoenix to battle Arcadia in the first round of the State Tournament. Rincon was predicted to win, but the Titans were determined to put up a very tough fight.

Kevin Kinkade committed his fourth foul in the second quarter and was pulled from the game. Rincon trailed by six at the half; a deficit which continued to grow through the third quarter until Kinkade was returned to the game to keep the Rangers from falling more behind.

By the fourth quarter, Arcadia's lead was reduced to six again as three Titan starters fouled out in rapid succession. As time began to run out, Rincon put on a full court press. Kinkade then led the Rangers in a great comeback, putting them ahead 56-51 before he finally fouled out. However, the Titans put in three foul shots and one field goal to tie the tame 56-56, throwing the game into a rigorous three minute overtime.

The two teams remained tied through most of the overtime. But with only seconds left, the Titans put in two free throws and controlled the ball as Rincon lost 62-60. This, the Rangers' lone defeat of the year, proved to most damaging as it put them out of contention for the title of State Champion.

Promising assets toward a brighter future.

Rincon's Junior Varsity basketball team didn't meet the complete success of the more experienced team, but they did receive their share of recognition for their 15-4 seasonal record. The J.V. placed third in the city, losing only to Sahuaro and Tucson High School.

Rincon's first string was filled with top-notch athletes. Among these were Jesse Parker, Lou Tapley, and Jeff Farmer. Lou and Jeff performed so flawlessly that they were promoted to the varsity squad for divisional playoffs.

The Freshman Ranger basketball team had an uninspiring season as they finished with a 2-11 record. Despite this standing, they managed to produce some outstanding players. Stanley Harbor and Tom Elias contributed the most to the Baby Rangers' game. The major drawback of this year's team was the lack of height and good outside shooters.

Rincon's 1971 wrestling squad had an uninspired 2-8 season record this year. Coach Morris Schmeider attributed this to the fact that wrestling at Rincon begins 20 days later than at the other schools in Tucson. He predicted that many team members would win at divisionals.

This year's squad was led by seniors Marty Capanna, Art Dumes, and Scott Nation. Marty Capanna achieved a personal record of 6-2 and has yet to be pinned. Art Dumes became a force to be reckoned with when he pinned Tucson High's Mike Dawson, top city wrestler.

Next year's team will be strengthened by the return of Jim Otto and Jim Weathers, and sophomore David Beaty.

Rincon opened the baseball season against the Pueblo Warriors. Paul Moskau took on the duties at the mound and proceeded to pitch a three hitter as well as hitting in 3 of the 6 runs scored by the Rangers. Rincon suffered its first loss at the hands of Central High. The Rangers led the entire game until the final inning when Central scored 3 runs to edge by Rincon, 5-3. The early season highlight was Moskau's grand slam homer against Palo Verde winning the game. The early season record was 3-1.

Rincon's Junior Varsity baseball squad got off to a fine start this season winning four of their first five games. The team has all-around talent as all the team members are proficient fielders and batters. The leading batting averages belong to Steve Hopkins, Troy Finley and Andy Herreras. With Tim Vesley, Craig Edminster and Don Hanna pitching for the Rangers, the Rincon bull-pen had greatly needed depth.

Rincon's freshman baseball squad was confident of a great season this year. In the opener against Pueblo, the Rangers humiliated the Warriors 17-0 in only five innings. Unbeaten Tucson High was likewise defeated by the Rincon frosh in a close, 2-1 extra-inning contest held at the Badger field. Steve Netherton was the top Ranger; he was a great pitcher and an excellent batter.

Through effort, records fall . . .

The 1971 Ranger track team was blessed with both talent and depth. The large number of fine runners in both sprints and distance composed Rincon's greatest strength. The Ranger sprint team was led by senior Leonard Rhodes, who has taken firsts in every 220 and 440 yard dash he has run this year, and junior John West, whose forte was the 100 yard dash. Seniors Kurt Decker and Joel Ireland usually led the field in the long distance runs as junior Steve Williams and senior Robert Stanley commanded hurdling events.

Pole vaulting was the sole point-getting field event for Rincon. Senior Mark Michaels broke the city record early in the season with a vault of 14 feet 1½ inches aimed for an even greater height by the end of the season.

Far Left: Mark Michaels clears 14 feet 1½ inches, setting a new city record in the duel meet with Sahuaro which Rincon won 83-44. Left: Kurt Decker finishes the one-mile run, placing first in the meet against Sahuaro.

The J.V.track team made the long journey to Douglas for its first encounter with competition. The trip proved to be worth the effort, though, as the Rangers out-ran the Bulldogs, 71-56. This year's Frosh track team proved to be one of the best Rincon has turned out. Chaco Vargas is the team's outstanding performer. He doubled in both the 1½ mile run and the 880 yard dash placing first in these events during the victory over Sahuaro. In addition to Vargas, the three other outstanding team members were: Mike Bagalini, hurdler, Art Vasquez, pole vaulter, and John Whitley, shot put thrower.

The Rincon tennis team has jumped to a fast start. After playing each school once, the Rangers have lost only twice. Upon facing Sahuaro the team suffered its first defeat by a score of 1-6. Catalina then defeated the Rangers in the next match with a final score of 2-5. The outstanding players this year have been Bill Tannenbaum, David Allin, and Albert Grabb. Next year's team will begin with a good basis because 4 of the 5 varsity players will return.

Rincon's tankers got off to a slow start this season, dropping their first two meets by narrow margins. But Coach Paul Kershner expected the team to improve and perhaps to place in state. Greg Farmer, Stuart Feldman and Ernie Small were the team's three senior captains, and with Juniors Steve Jones and Don Magee, were the top men on the team. Dave Danford and Albert LeCocq were the leading Ranger divers, both having very successful seasons.

The Ranger golf team, bolstered by the return of seven members of last year's team, began what was expected to be a very good season with a 184-323 victory over Pueblo. Seniors Cory Crowell and Marty Vasquez were the team's top men as they led the team to the number one position in the city early in the season. With Dave Bolin, Gary Bivings and Manny Valenzuela completing the top five, the team expected to go far.

Editor-in-chief Kati Godfrey spirited last year's All-American honors-winning ECHO to even loftier jounalistic heights this year. A transposition of emphasis from social protest to a people theme was the most substantial alteration to this year's gazette.

Mr. Freeman Hover advised the staff for his third year during which time the publication grew progressively more objective. Another new facet of the 70-71 Echo was the addition of color on the front page of the paper.

The French Club's hard earned money came from car washes and a bake sale. The Spanish Club sponsored Homecoming and the Latin Club concerned itself with the environment. All of the clubs have had speakers and films on the cultural aspects of their countries.

The Bi-Chem-Phy Club met during the year twice a month. The members were informed about such topics as ecology, drugs, and pollution in relation to ecology. To prove themselves funloving as well as scientific, the Science Club held a balloon shaving contest during both lunches. Even specators got shaving cream showers.

Rincon's Future Teachers of America combined flowers with funds, and came up smelling like-carnations. That's right, one of the club's most beneficial projects was the carnation sale which tempted a large portion of the student body. Sponsor Mr. Zastrow tried to obtain interesting speakers from time to time to arouse interest within the club.

Experience is the best way, seemed to be the under-lying thought that coupled the events of DECA in 1970-71. New members were honored by a mammoth kidnap breakfast and then were introduced to the activities that lay ahead. Candy apple sales, in addition to DECA candy, sent delegations of members to Distributive Education conferences in Phoenix and Texas, and added funds to the treasury for projects.

The men behind the machines all met in an obscure corner of Rincon known as LL9 and became the Media Club. Caught together in a small capsule of time, students attempted to create works of art and basement films. To give the students that were deprived of this one-of-a-kind club, a taste of culture, the Media Club presented such spine-tingling creations as The Phantom Creeps and Dracula.

Propelled by oral expression.

Aviation-Top Row: G.Whitaker, M.McClure, T.Krafthefer, Mr. Preble. Bottom Row: J.Colwell, J.Glover, B.Tretbar, B.Grenga.

Either members of the debate team became professional trophy thieves this year or they spent all of their free time working on rebuttal speeches. This becomes obvious as one notices the number of debate trophies displayed at Rincon. Some of the credit, of course, belongs to Mr. Boswell, the club's sponsor, and the principle orators.

Because of the growing interest in flying, an aviation club was started at Rincon. Mr. Preble sponsored the club.

Mystical shapes communicate inner moods.

Creativity and sensitivity - what other words could more accurately describe Rincon's only advanced modern dance class? Sponsor Mrs. Blute captured the energy and expression generated by twenty girls, and molded it into an entertaining performance. The results were presented at the Fall Studio Concert, a Spring Concert, the Evening of Fine Arts, and a Prima Vera workshop. The most rewarding experience was achieved through the experimentation of movement and style in class.

Hiding behind a playwright's dream.

Members of the International Thespian Society helped make David and Lisa, the full length play performed in December, the sell-out success that it was.

Many English classes had the chance to see entertaining one-act productions as Childhood, Brick and the Rose, The Lottery, and Arby the Bugboy in the studio theater.

Let him step to the music which he hears.

Living up to its superior rating of U. of A. Band Day, the Rincon Marching Band drilled into its thirteenth year. After a football season of halftime and pre-game shows, some of the band players divided into the stage band, soloists and small ensembles. They played for Music under the Stars, the Christmas Concert, and Serenade to Spring. Its repertoire ranged from victory marches to melodious Christmas carols to that final number, Pomp and Circumstance.

A cacophony of sound.

Had you happened to wander past the instrumental music room any morning, you might have been startled by the strange and varied melodies that came from within! Stage band, under the watchful direction of Mr. Paul Grimes, spent much time in presenting enjoyable programs at basketball games and at the freshmen orientation. Concerts for the community and local organizations gave members a chance to improve upon their musical skills as did the state-wide stage band festival in Flagstaff and local competitions.

First period every morning the auditorium was used as a rehearsal hall for the much expanded Rincon Orchestra.

The orchestra's members almost doubled over last year and so did the sound. Band members joined the string orchestra after marching season and the result was a beautiful blending of harmonies. The repertoire of the orchestra provided listeners with a variety of music, ranging from "Beethovan's First Symphony" to the song "Love is Blue." Mr. Wilcox enjoyed his second year of conducting at Rincon.

Raised voices please listeners and singers.

A Chorale and Choraliers had a new look this year. Reds, blues, and purples brightened the stage during concerts. Elementary schools and junior highs were entertained again this year by these two vocal groups.

The Second Annual Spaghetti Dinner was held and like the first was a success. Selling candy bars was another project.

A Chorale-Top Row: L.Petty, R.Barngrover, J.Means, A.Musiker, B.Engholm, G.French, G.Huot, R.Burrows, W.Mullinax, D.Logan, M.Neff, T. Members of B Chorale and Choralettes concentrated their efforts on achieving harmony in more ways than one. Helping with the spaghetti dinner and also with chorus candy sales boosted spirit, while adding dollars to their treasury. Both groups were good examples of how cooperation and enthusiasm can bring the most favorable results.

Golden Girls-Judy Beaver, Elaine Leftwich, and Gay Grant.

The spirit of the cheerleaders could be heard above everything at football and basketball games. The squad this year was divided in two; five cheered during basketball season and seven cheered at the football games. These girls gave Rincon its needed boost.

As is traditional, the cheerleaders helped the Lettermen's Club in sponsoring a Christmas party for needy children in town.

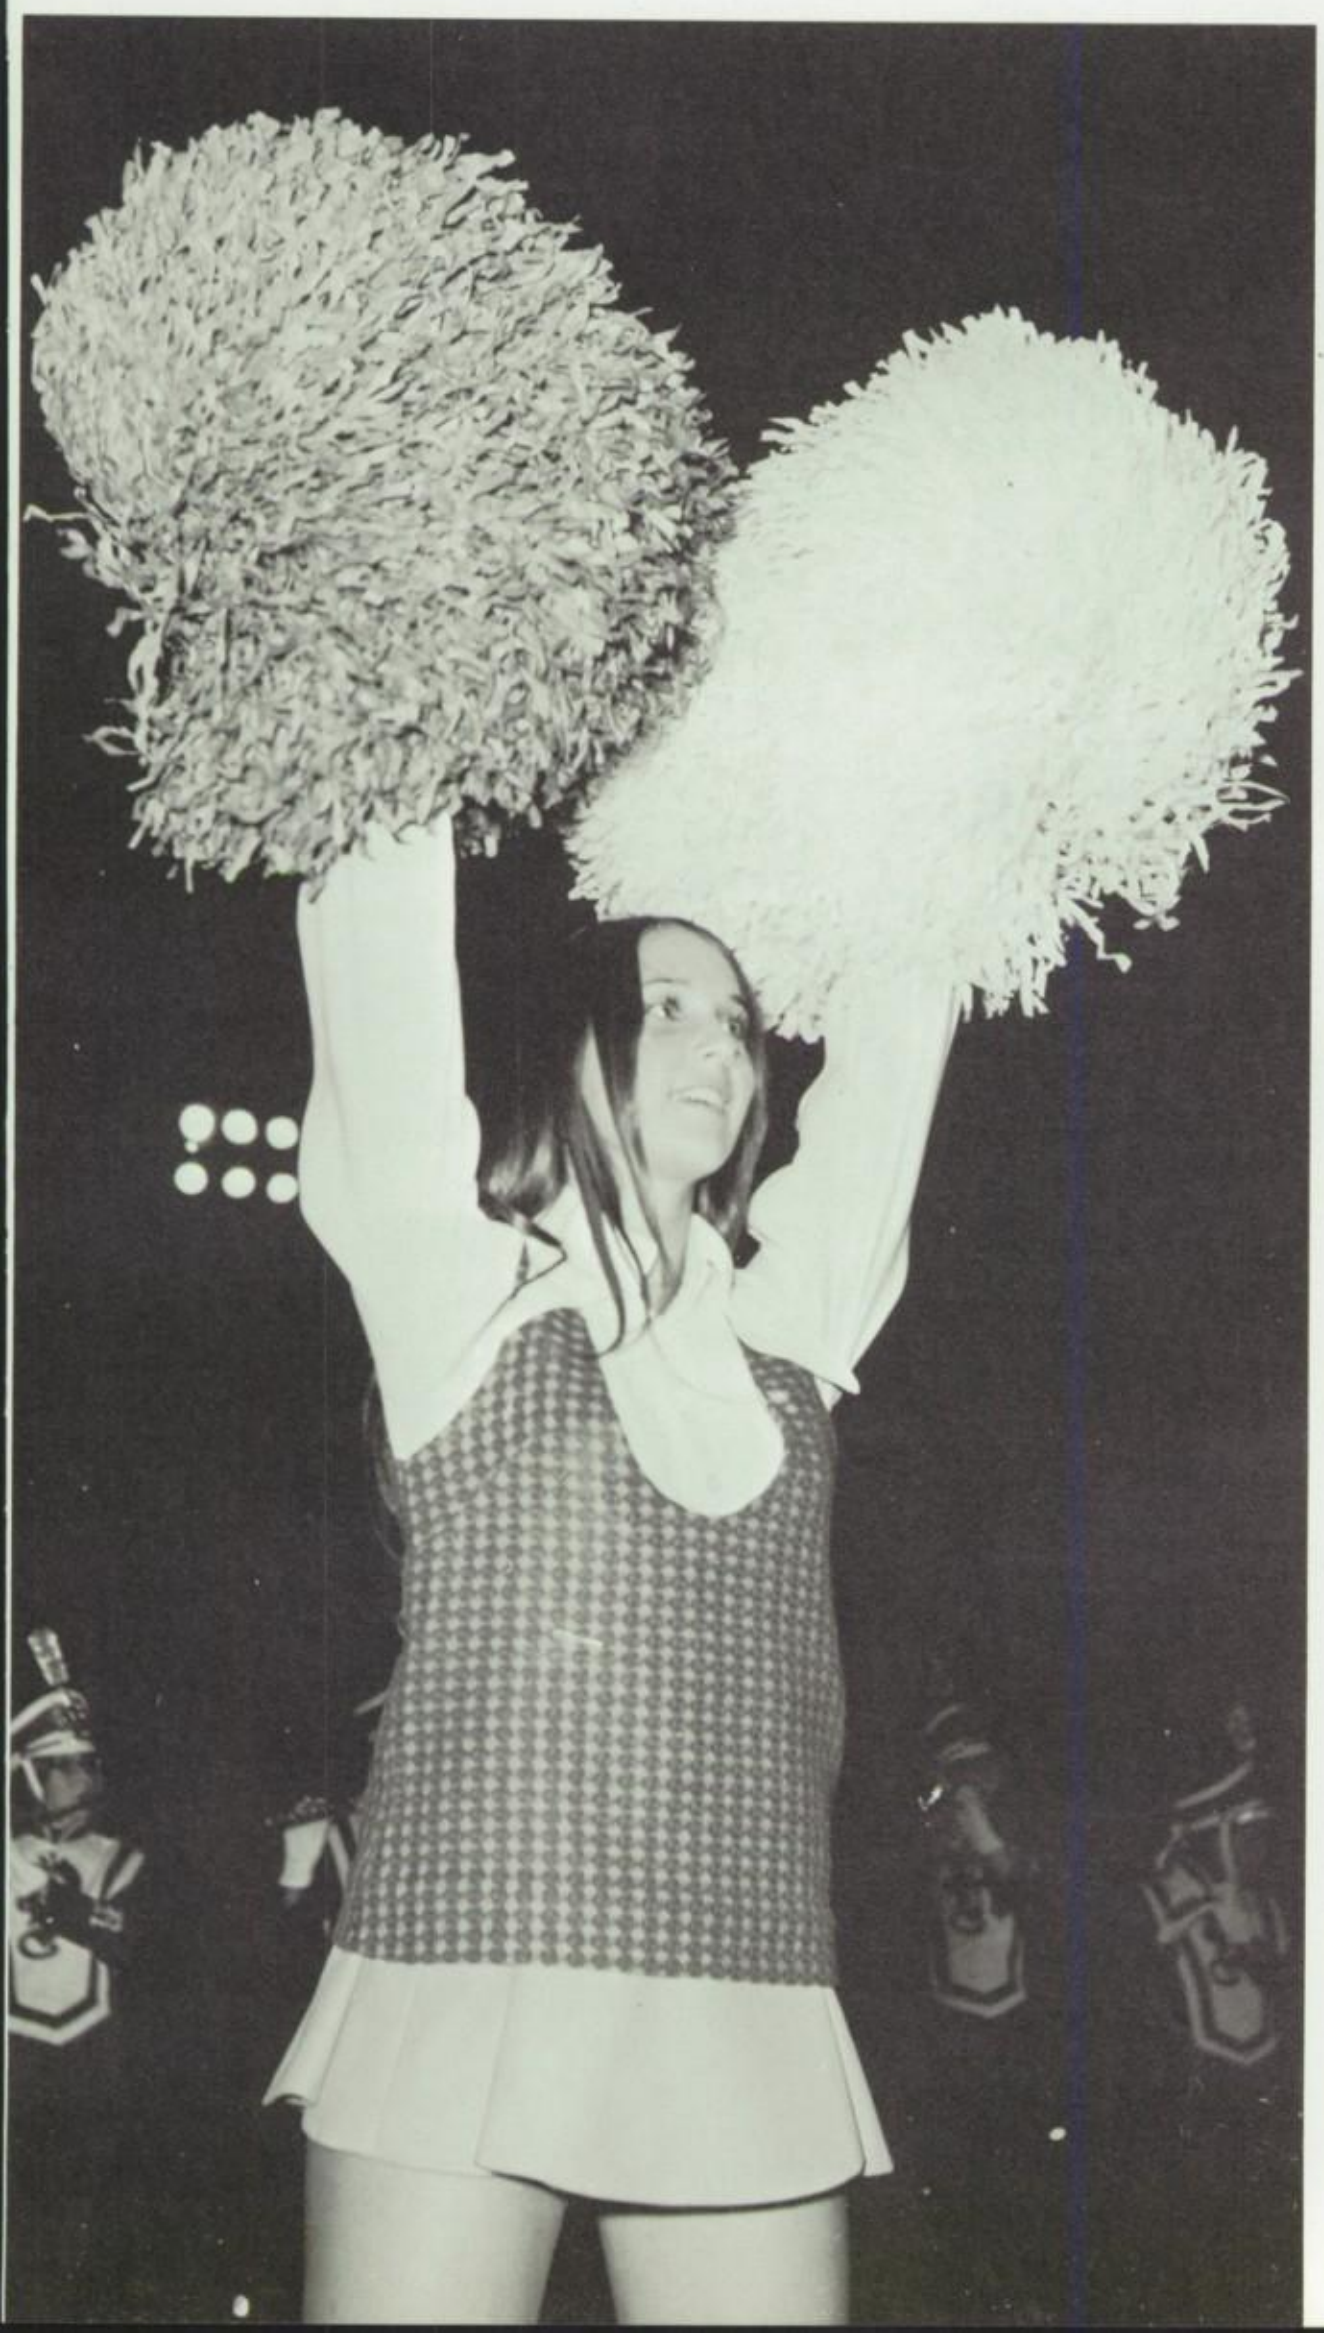
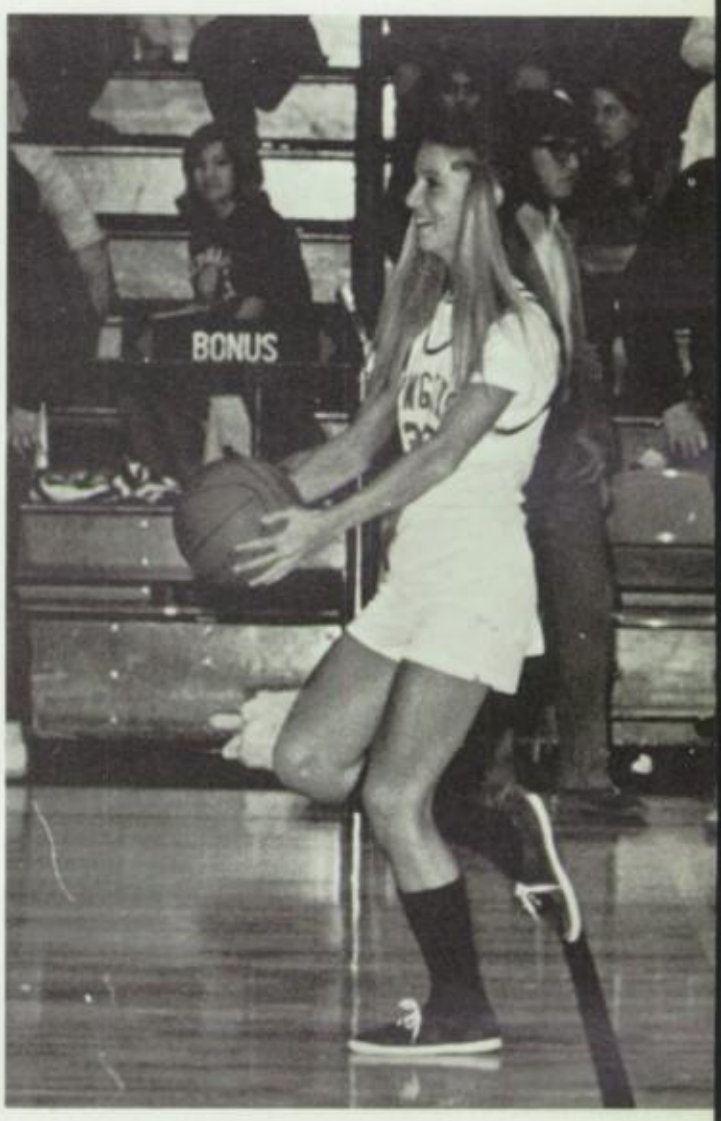
Brightening school with enthusiasm.





In keeping with the times, the songleaders had a new approach to football and basketball performances. The songleaders doubled in size to give more girls a chance to participate and to give hard working squads a much needed rest.

The halls at school never had that drab look thanks to Girl's League. Locker covers were made before games to adorn the lockers of school athletes. At Christmas time each hall was decorated showing a different aspect of the yuletide season. Spirit Week was also sponsored by Girl's League. The Ugly Man contest and victory balloons highlighted that traditional week.

The fun-loving Lettermen held another zany initiation to the delight of the student body. After the initiation the Lettermen's goals became more serious. Members picked up trash on the campus and the traditional Christmas party was held at Carillo Elementary School.

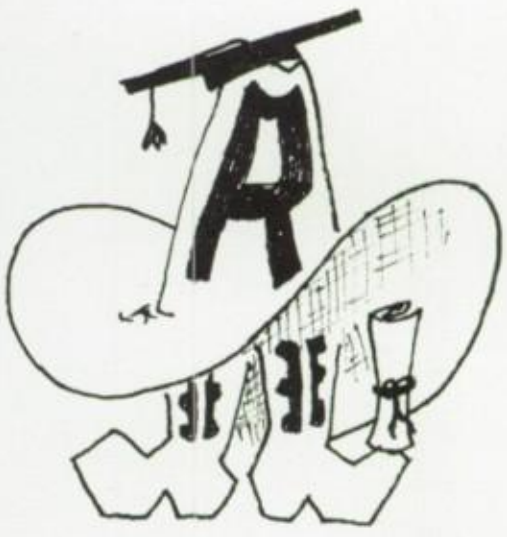
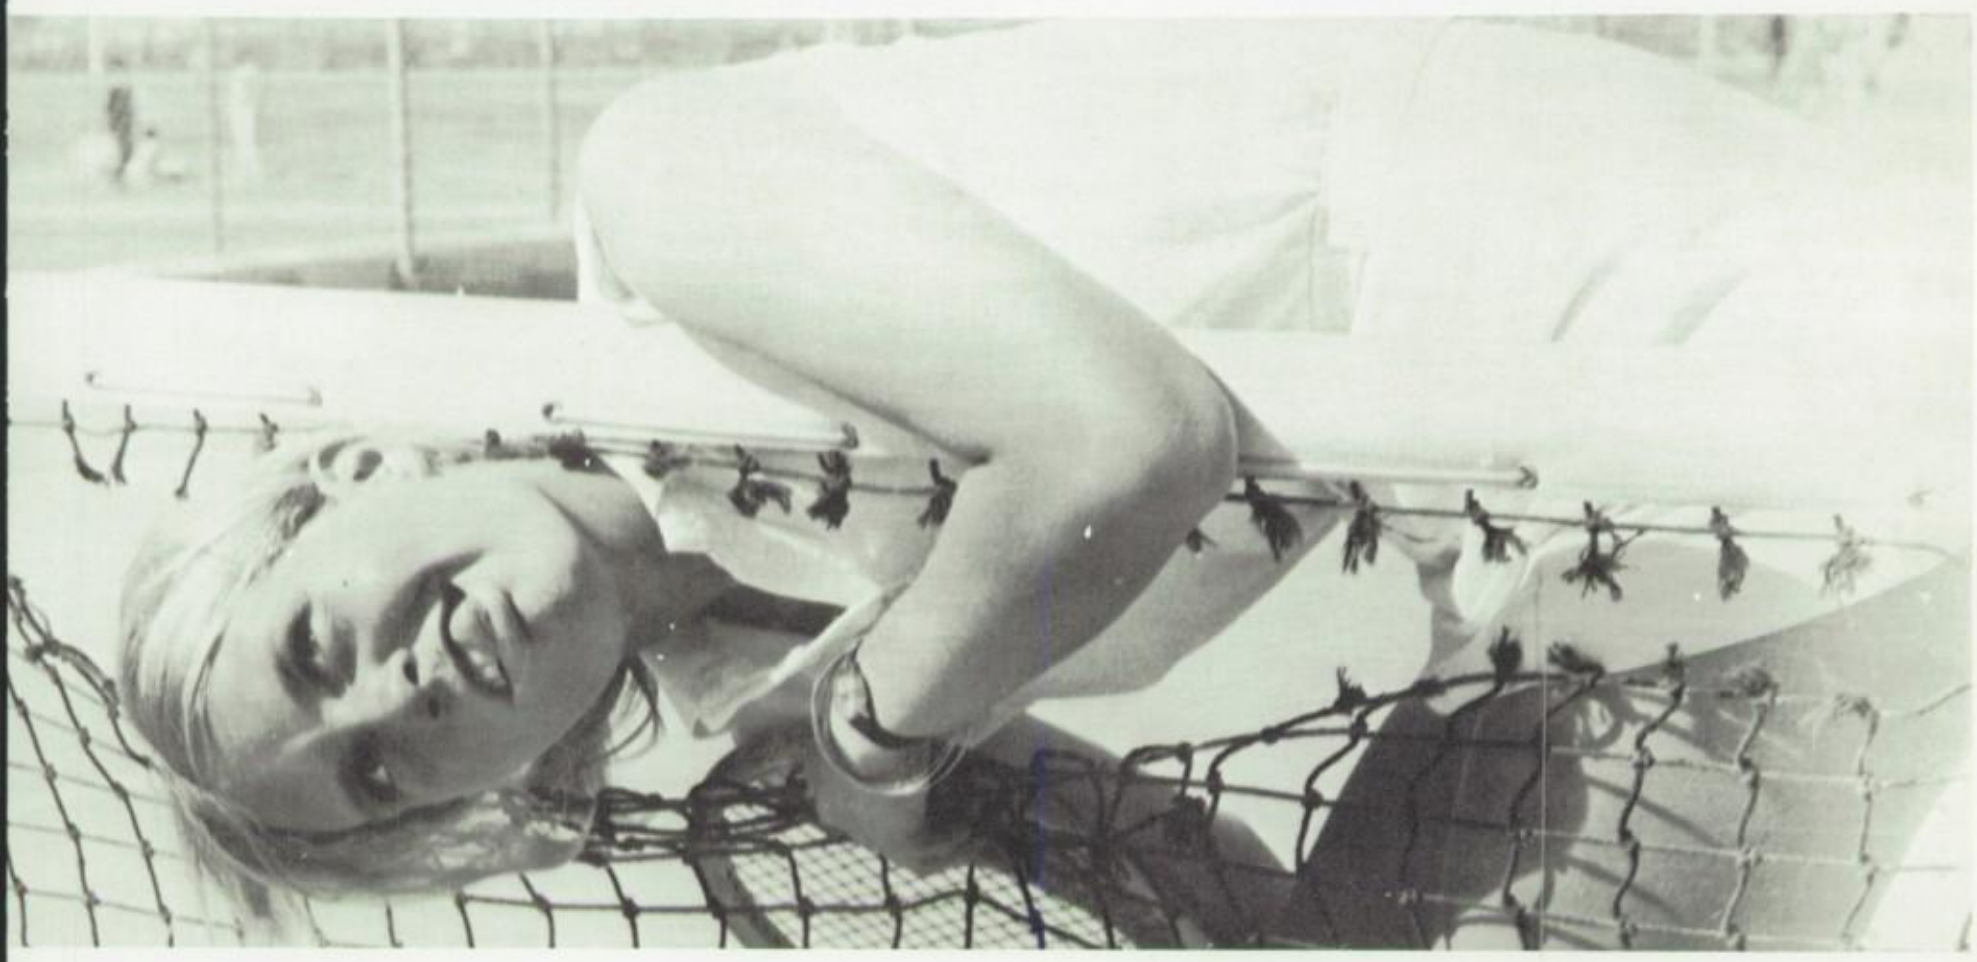
HONORS

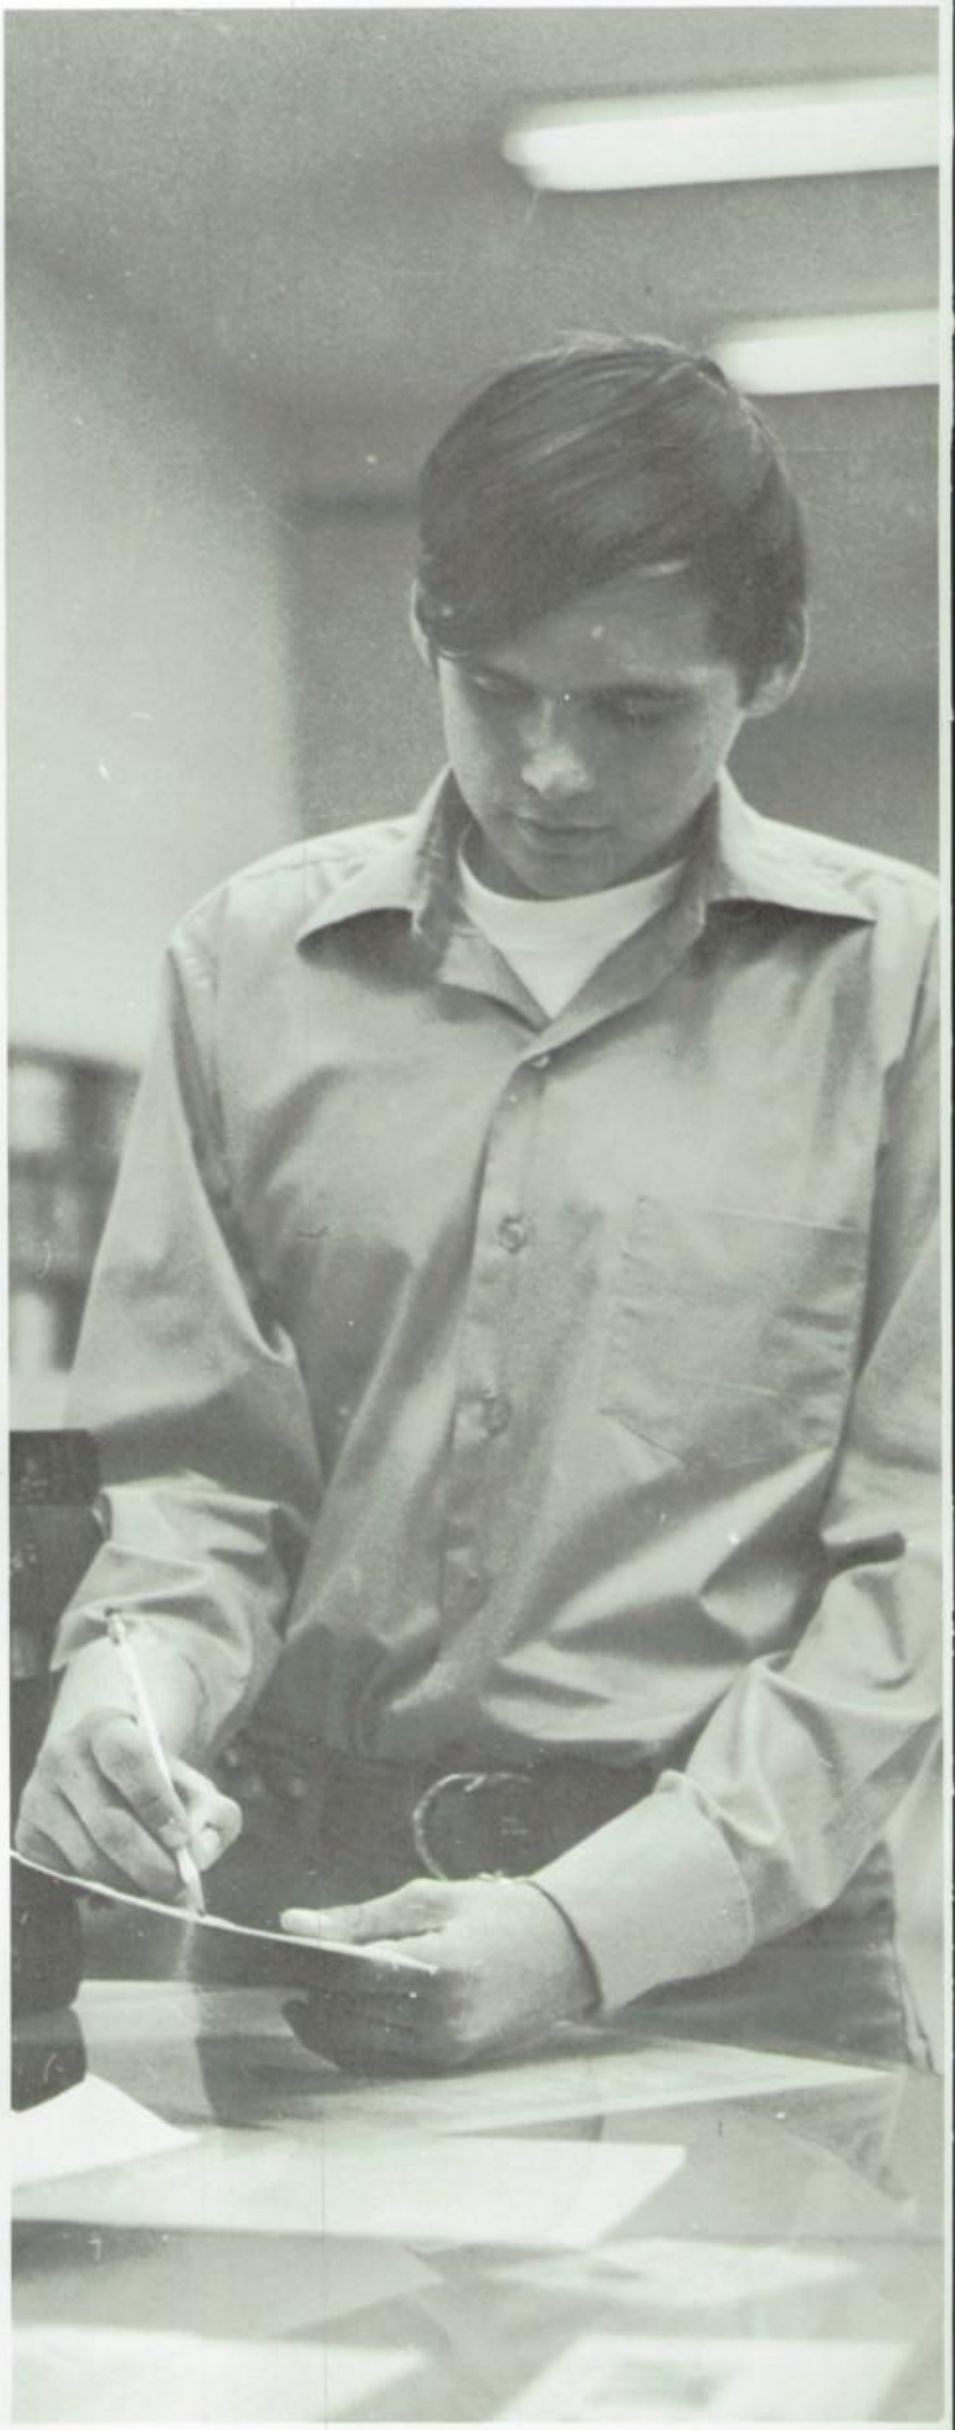


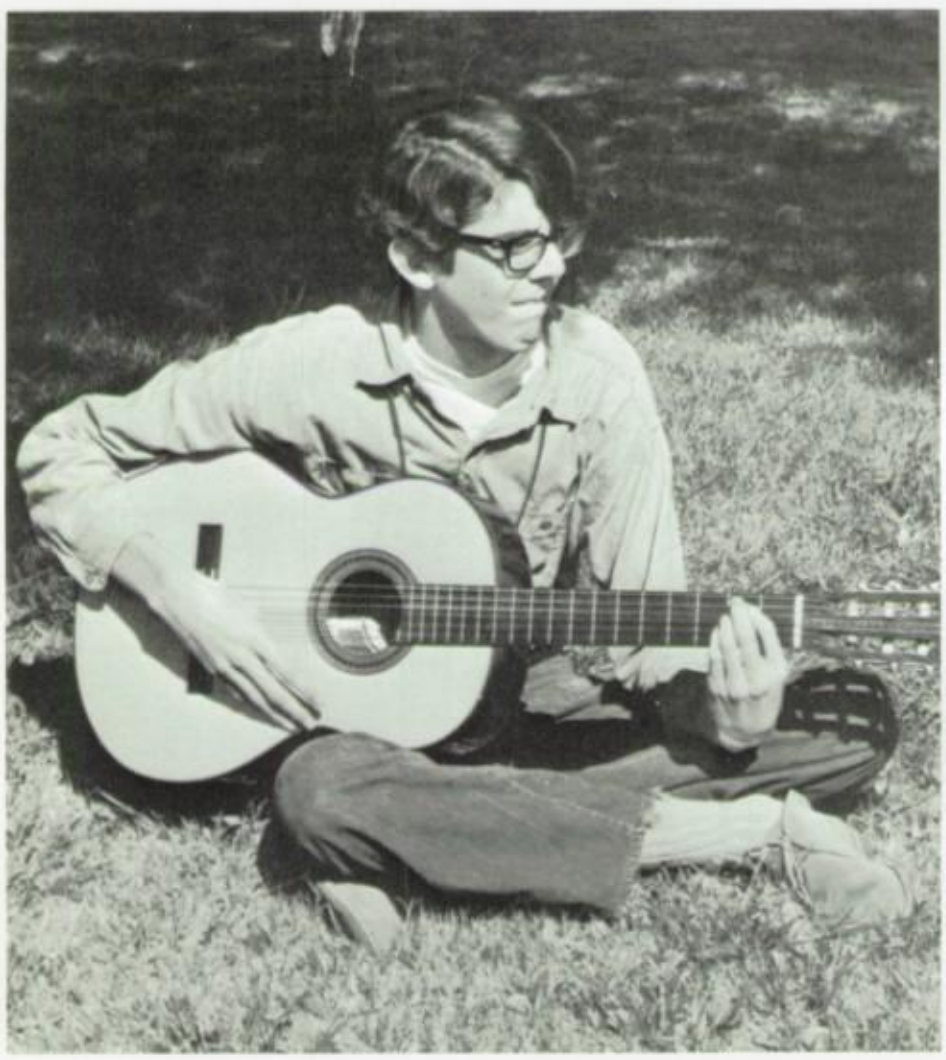
Above: Physics and analytical geometry are enjoyed by David Mobley, who is graduating first in the class of '71. In his spare time drawing and playing the trombone take precedence. David will go to the U. of A. to major in biochemistry. Right: David Dew, third ranked student in the graduating class, is multi-talented. He is the lead tenor sax in the stageband, works with computers, and tutors with the Human Relations club members at Menlo Park.

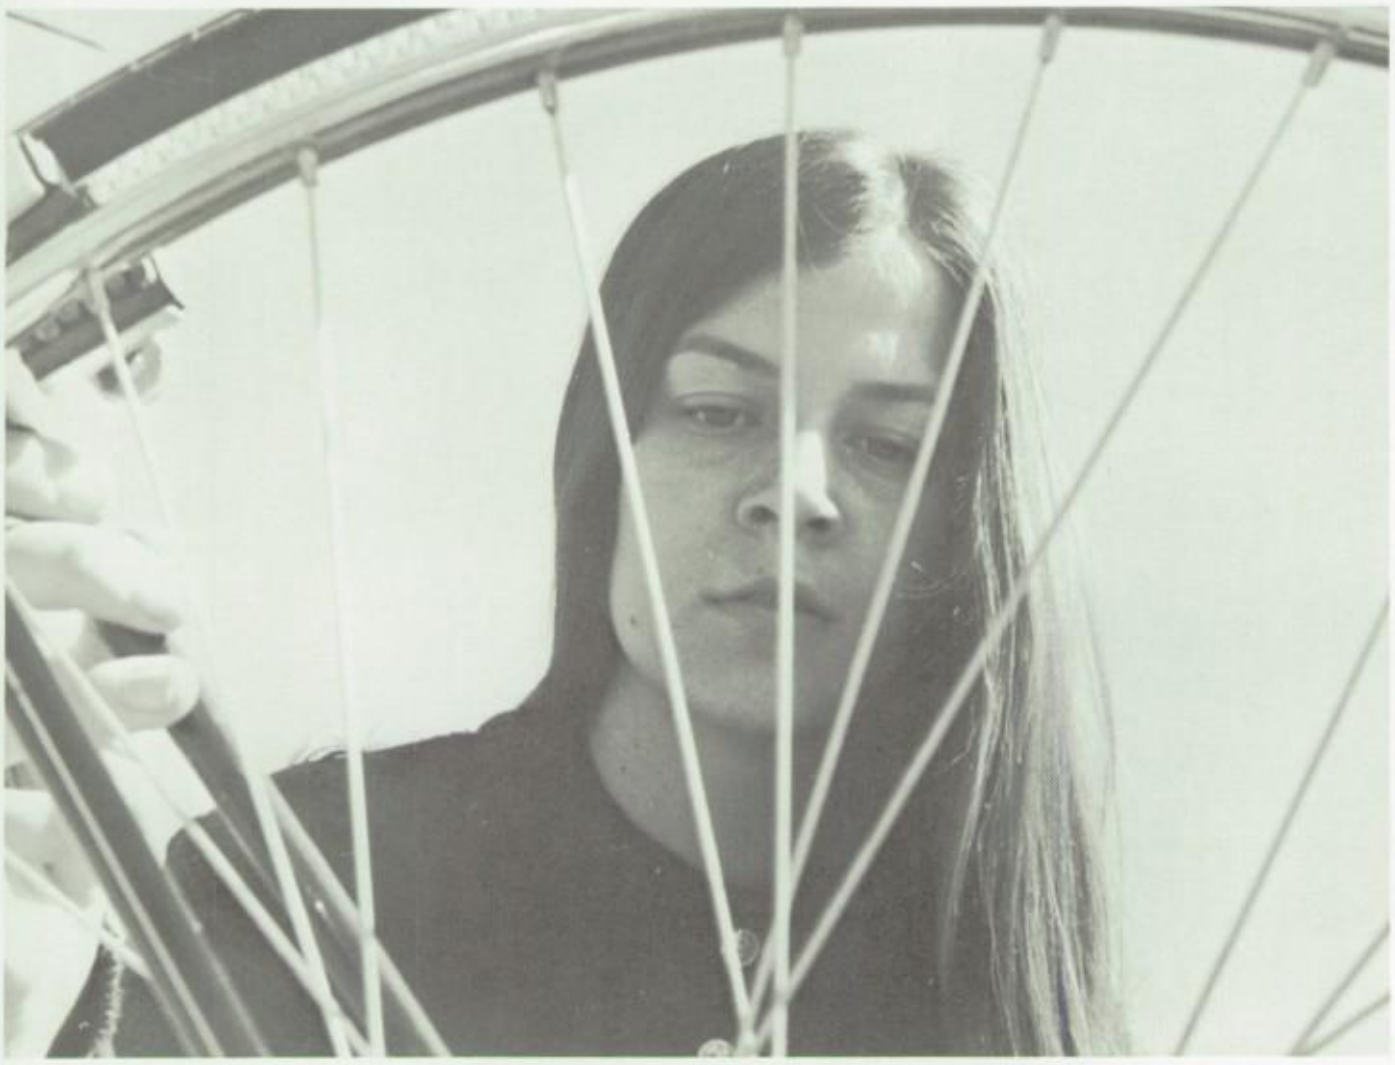
Left: Nancy Brown, ranked second, is an all around scholar. She translates Spanish, works in the library and is planning to major in Liberal Arts, at S.E. State College in Oklahoma. Below: Athletic Mimi Foster, fourth ranked, has spent most of her high school years out-of-doors. She plays tennis and is first on the Rincon team. She also enjoys bikeriding.



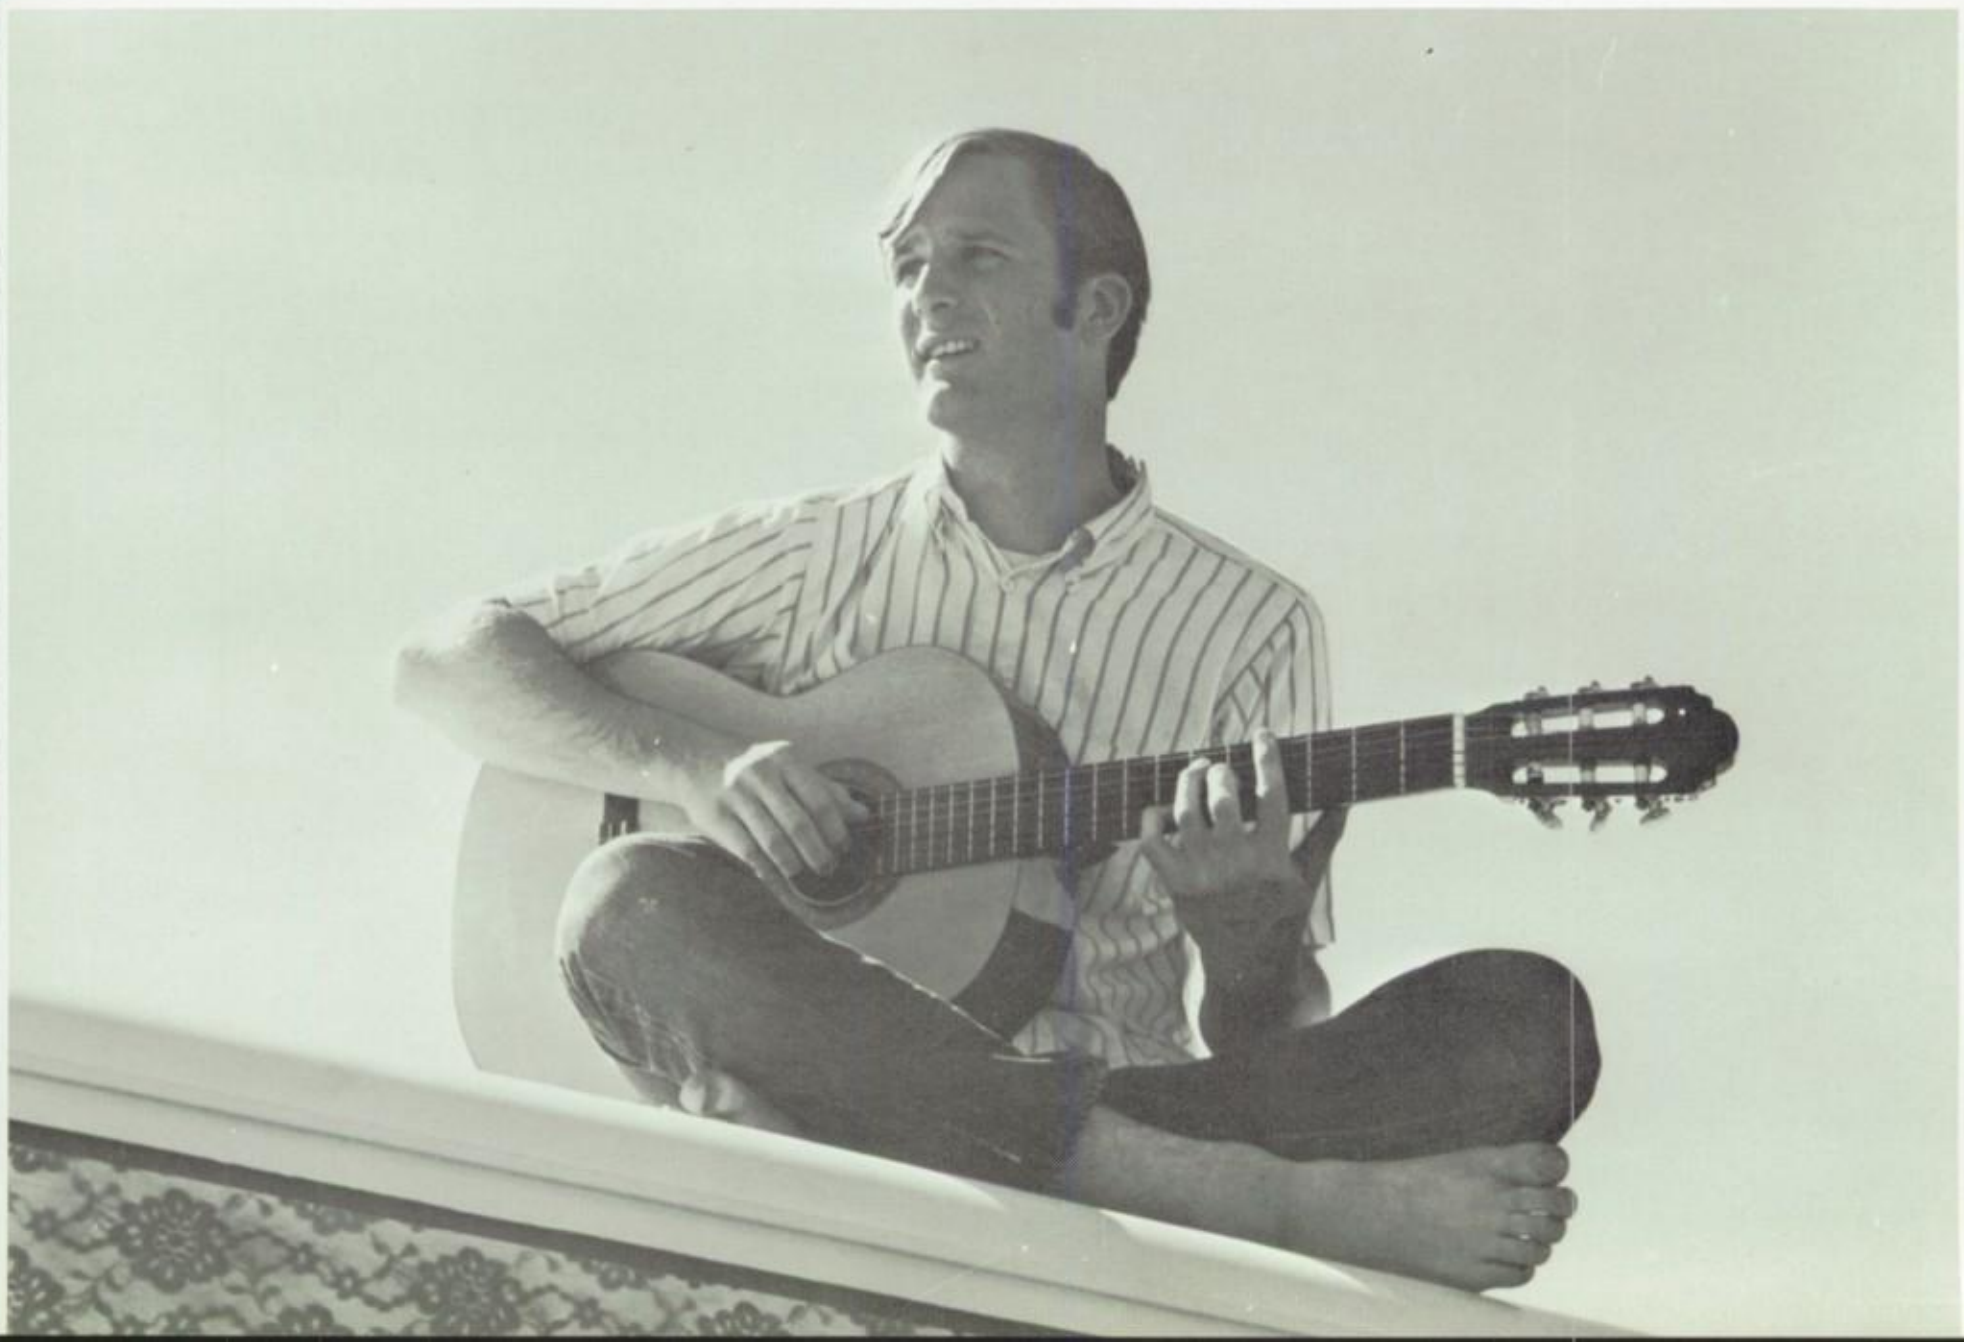
Below: Science-oriented Mark Myers ranks fifth in his class. He will attend the U. of A. and major in physics or engineering.
Right: Transfer student Frank Auletta is eighth ranked in the senior class and is a potential political science major. He enjoys golf, speech, and Latin club in his spare time.



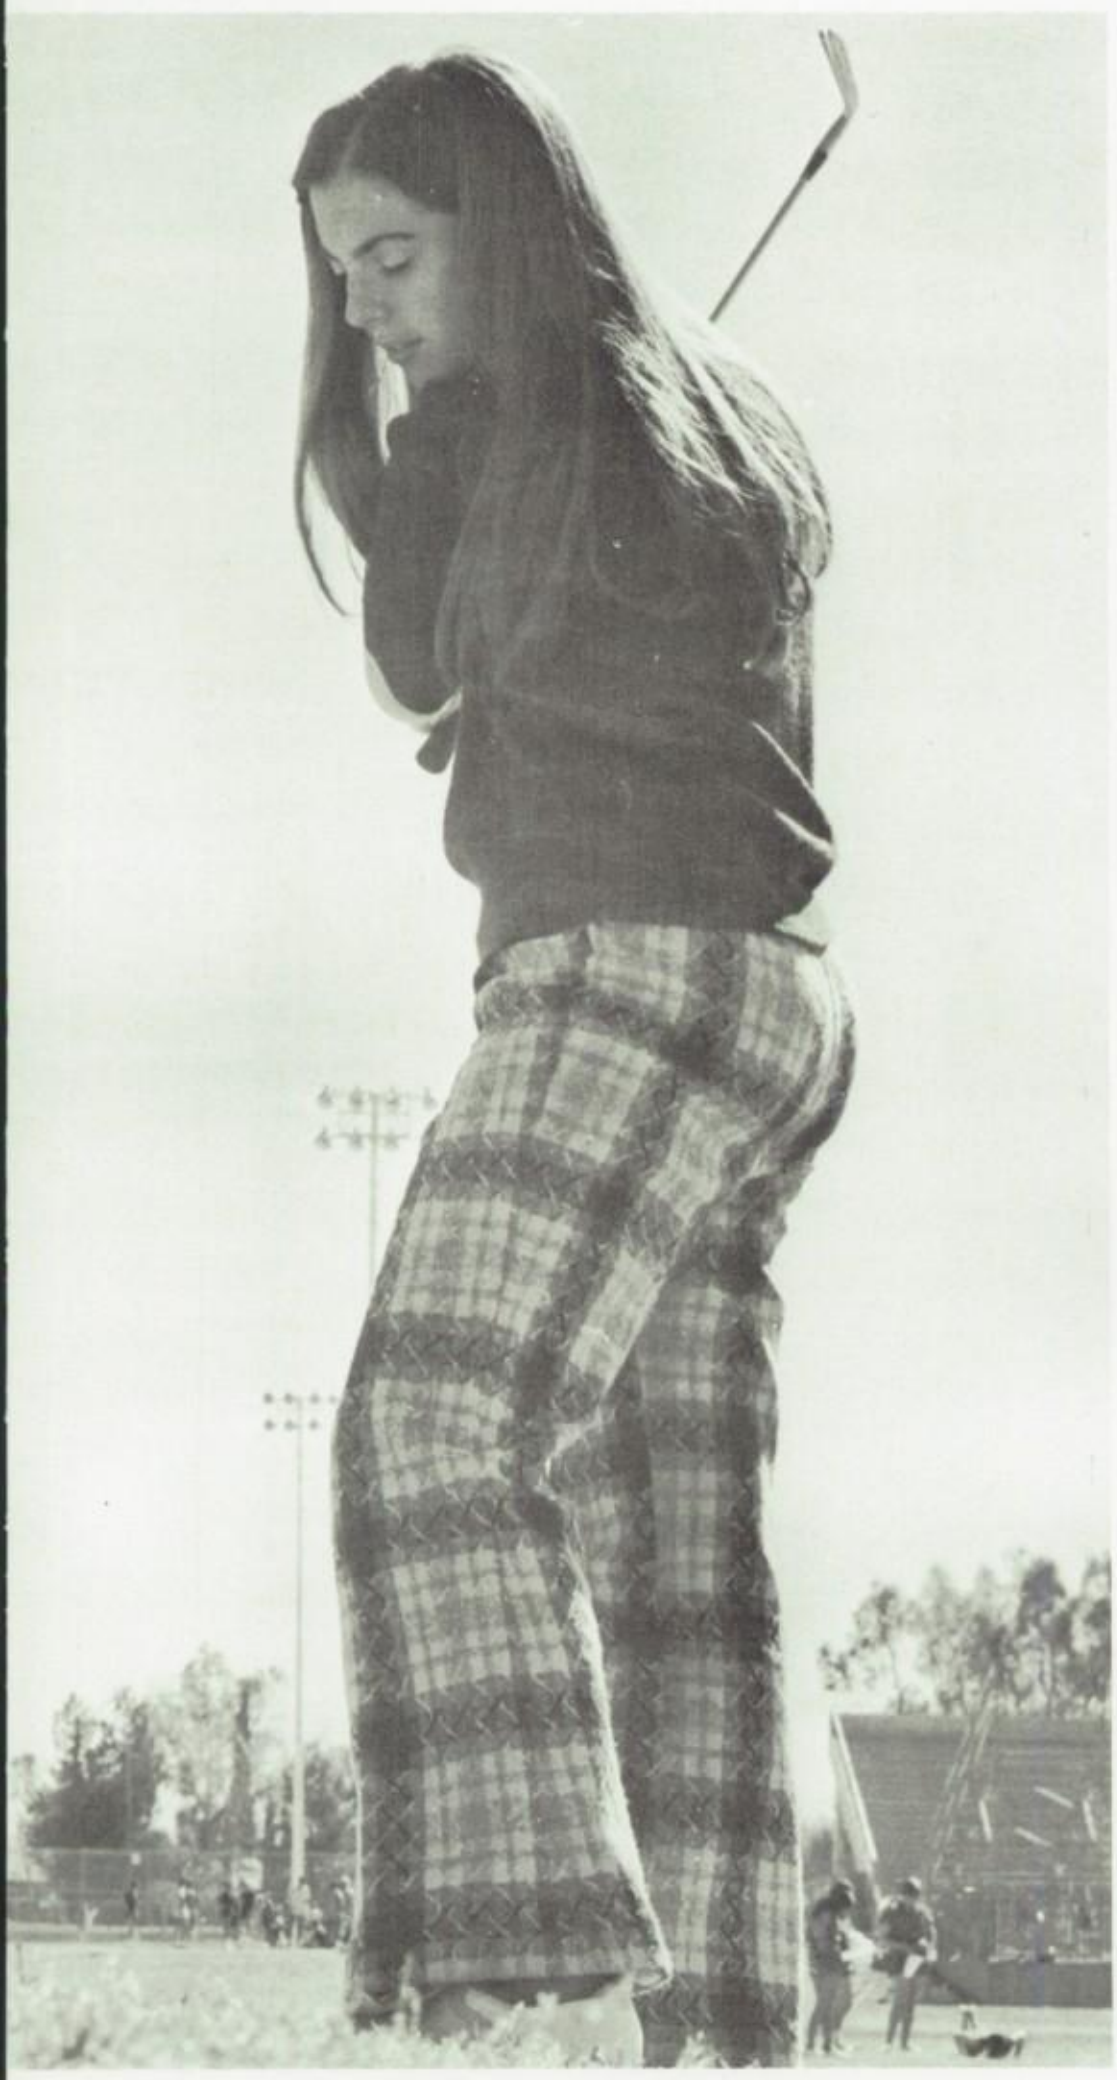




Below: Rincon's number six man Bruce Allen occupies his spare time with many hobbies, his favorites being yoga and swimming. Bruce plans to attend the U. of A. next year and to study architectural design. Left: Hiking, biking and reading occupy much of Barbara Bindenagel's leisure time. Placing seventh in her class, Barbara enjoys many outdoor activities. Plans for the future include work in fashion at the University of Arizona.



Right: Tim Corely, the eleventh ranked senior, has varied interests. On the studious side he enjoys physics, chemistry, and calculus. Hiking and movie making occupy his leisure hours. Below: Last summer Nancy Norem, twelfth in the graduating class, spent unforgettable days in Japan as a Youth for Understanding studdent. Her interests range from calculus to playing an exhilarating game of tennis.



Above: Even though Pamela Pleiter, number ten, is a transfer student, Rincon soon knew her, not only academically, but also vocally. Pamela sings in the A Chorale and plays the piano. She also sews and enjoys reading. Her future plans are to become a nurse. Left: A career in Chemical engineering is planned for ninth ranked Cory Morse. An actress at heart, Cory is the president of the Thespian Society at Rincon. She is also an avid golfer and fiddles on the guitar in spare time.

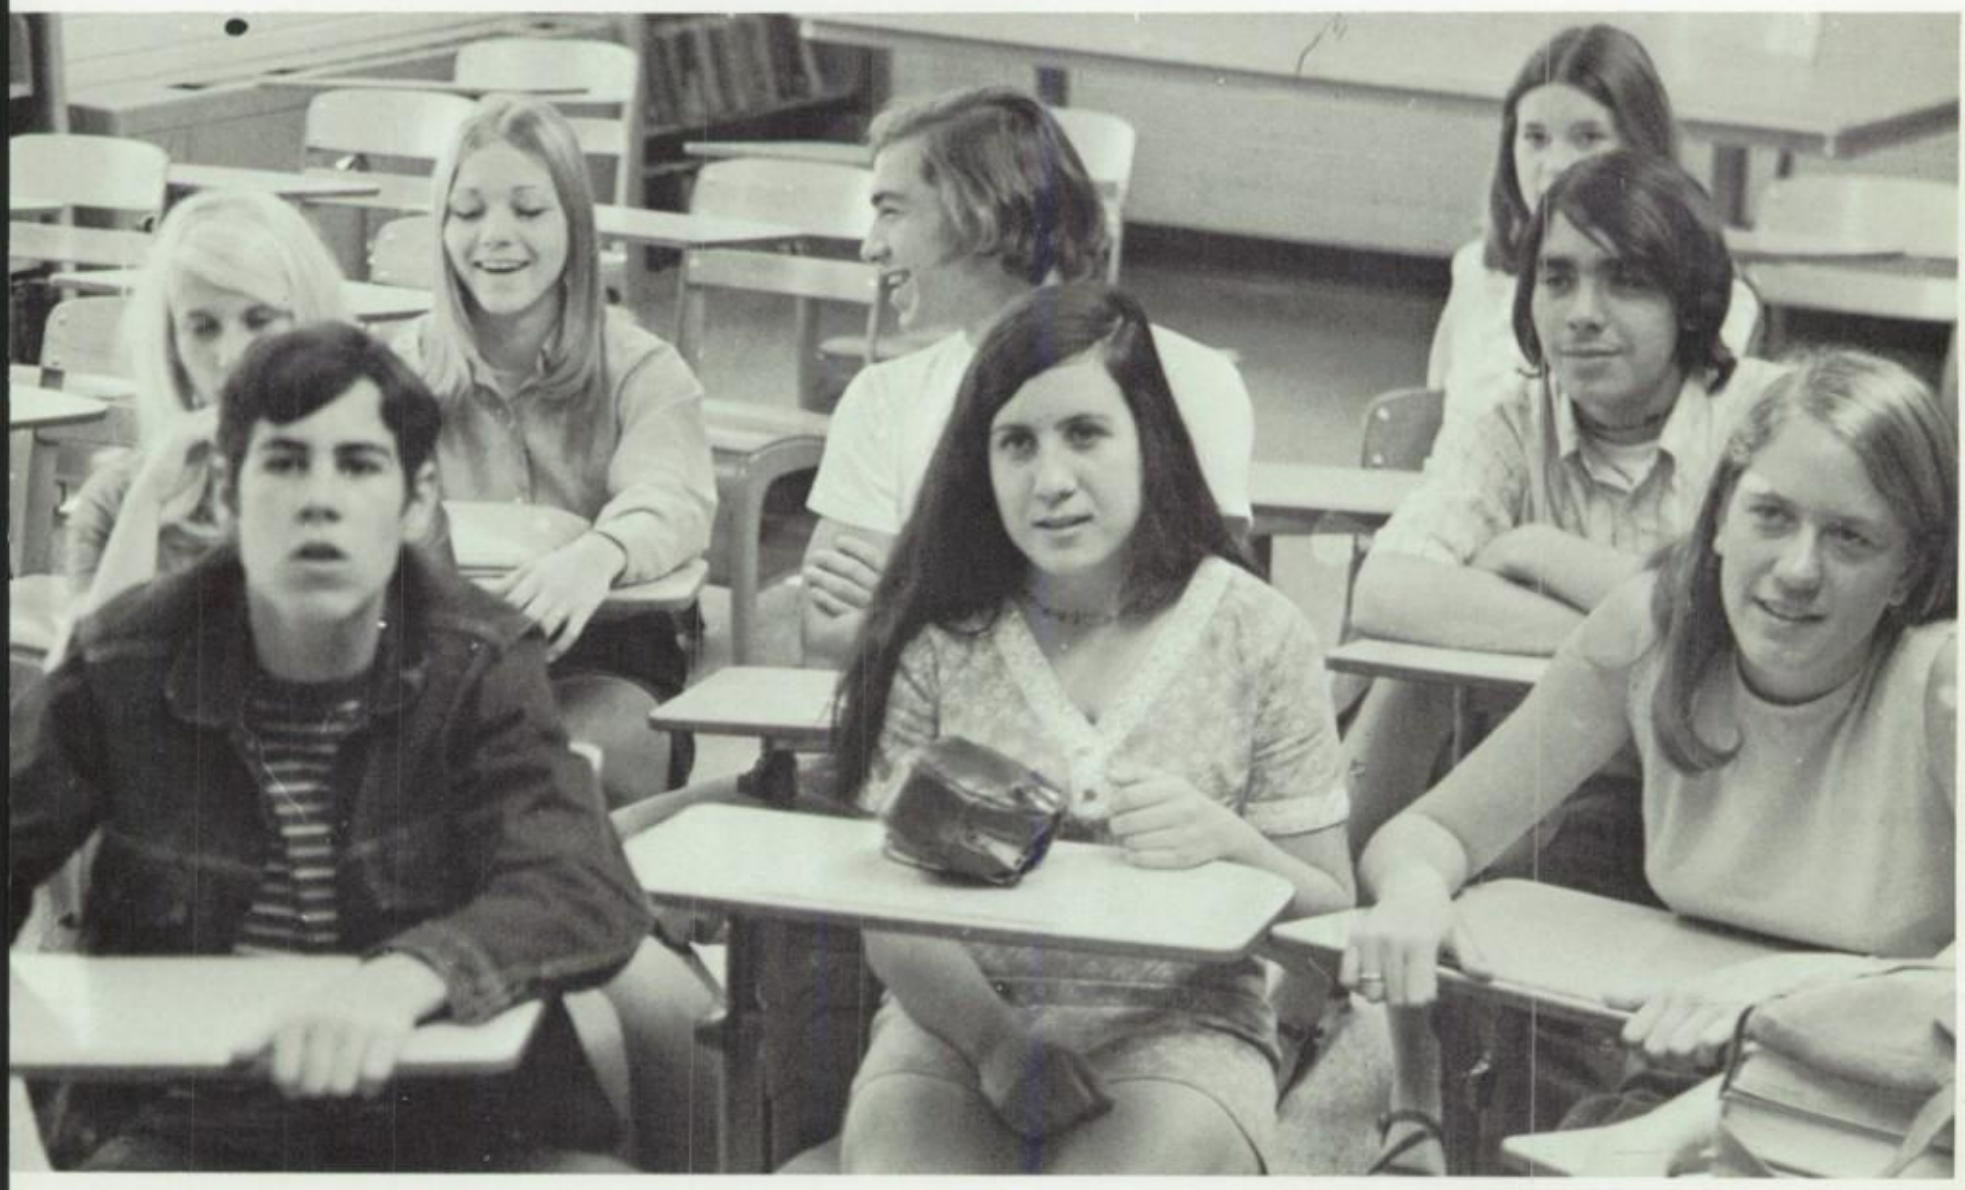
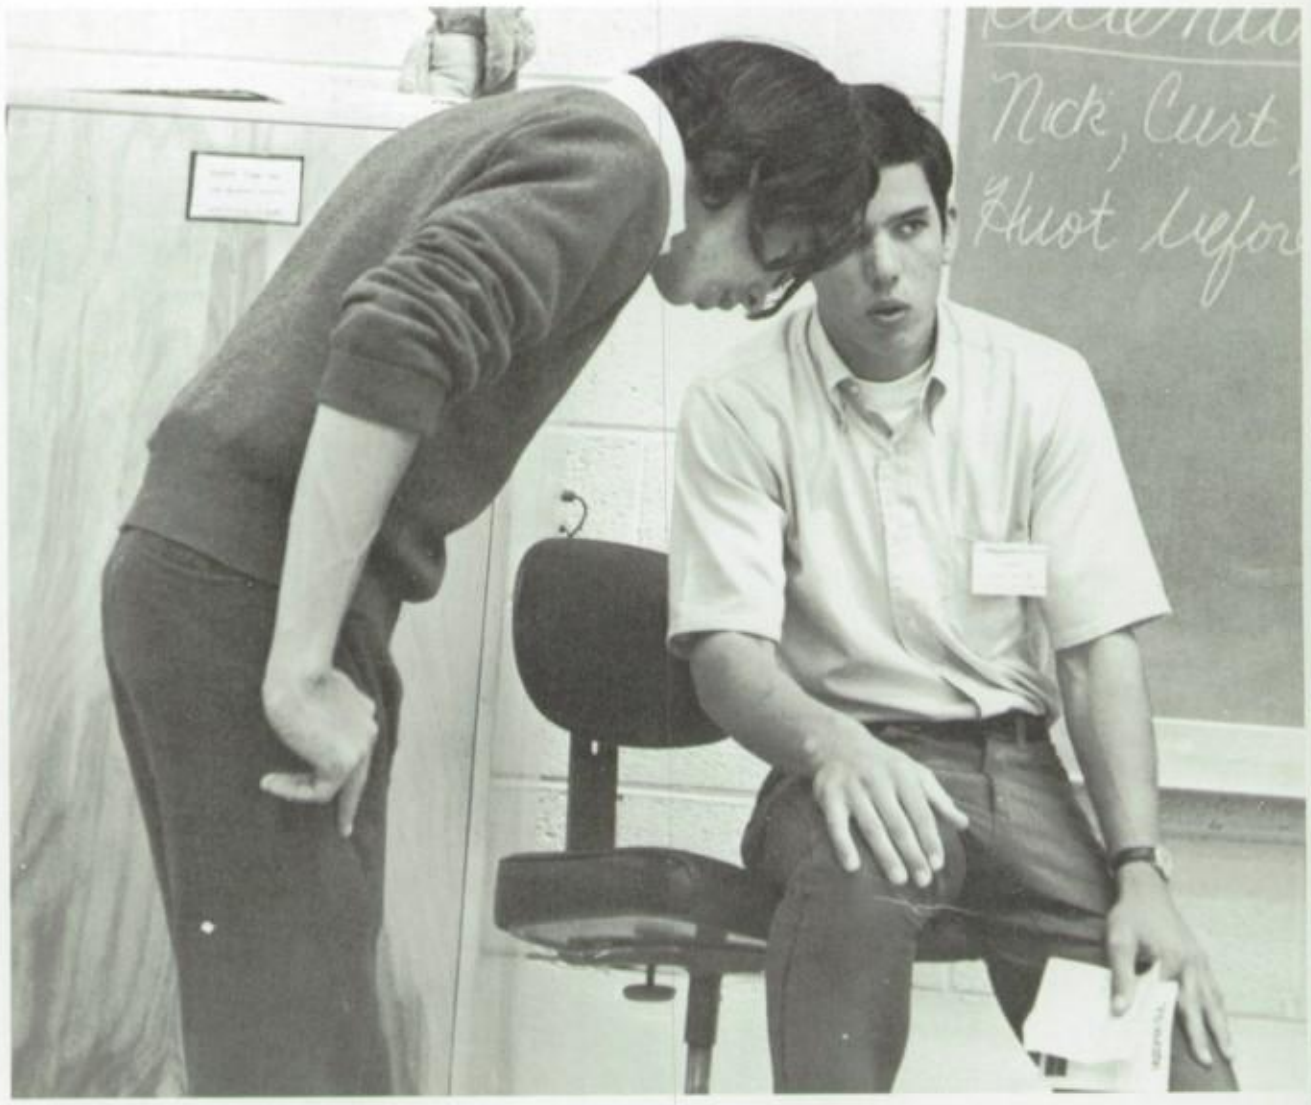
Built from yesterday's ruins to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

Senate had a busy and exciting year. Sponsoring the first mixer and fighting smoking laws were only a few of the many accomplishments that took place. Student government united to efficiently represent the student body.





Right: A meeting of the minds takes place as Bob Freitas and Steve Villaescusa determine the verdict in a crucial senate matter. Below: House members respond heartily to Mr. Starr's witty and enthusiastic opening address. Far Right: The eye of wisdom shines upon Bert Rotter as he presents the agenda at one of the joint House and Senate meetings.

United we stand.

Enthusiasm was the key word used to describe the House of Representatives; activities this year. Interested students came to the meetings to discuss such subjects as smoking laws, canned food drive, and bringing the House and Senate into one governing body. They also broke up into committees to discuss and work out problems that face us today. Bob Freitas and Art Dumes helped make these meetings a successful part of the 1970-71 school year.

Commencement-the fulfillment of dreams.

During their last year at Rincon, the senior class held the prom and senior stage show, traditions that make Rincon. The Rawhide King and Queen were re-established by the senior class after a years absence. Even though the thought of graduation filled seniors' minds, there was still room to think of others. The senior class supported a needy child.

Still feeling the surge of excitement.

The sophomore class continued their winning streak of interesting and useful activities. A city-wide dance, an art exhibit, and a spaghetti dinner were held. The sophomores conducted a canned food drive for Christmas and won first place in the Christmas hall-decorating contest sponsored by Girl's League.

Has Drucilla Polozie discovered a new miracle way to get homework done or has she just realized that she has forgotten her needed lunch money?

Growing through new experiences.

The freshman class has really started their high school years off well. Already looking ahead moneywise, four car washes were held by this ambitious class. The freshmen also participated in school projects such as Spirit Week, hall decorating contest at Christmas, and S.T.A.R.T. Week.

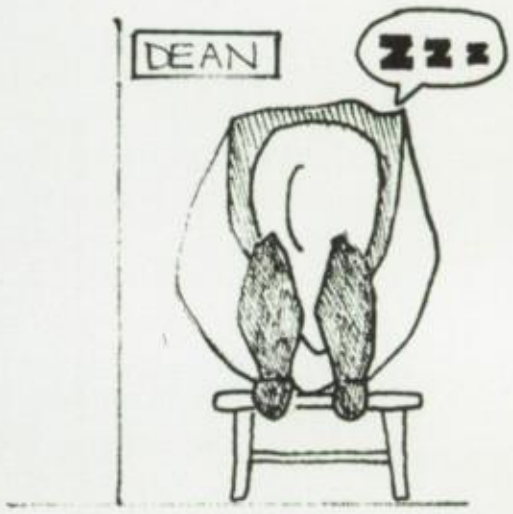
Sophomore Patricia King assists two befuddled freshmen in the frosh general election held at the beginning of the first semester while Mr. Carey observes the voting procedures so there will be no ballot box stuffing.

STAFF



Left: Coping with the problems of a high school requires a wardrobe of facial expression and Mr. Starr never lacks the appropriate one. Below: Becoming broadminded is an aquired characteristic for Assistant Principal Mr. Carey. Right: Dean of Girls, Mrs. Fancher, consults Mr. Katusz, Dean of Boys, on her latest disciplinary problem. Far Right: Mr. Stubbs leans back and grins reassuringly when he realizes that the Rincon students aren't that bad.

A balance between a liberal student body and a restraining society.

Caught between society and the students, the administration has a difficult position to maintain: trying to be lenient enough to allow freedom of expression for the students, yet strong enough for parents to feel secure in the school system.

The guidance department began new programs focused at college bound students. Information on different colleges were taped and put in the cassette library and speakers from Arizona colleges met with junior and senior students and parents several times during the year.

As times change so must the library. Over 1,000 new books were added to our ever growing library. Instead of the usual fiction books, many non-fiction books concerning poverty, ecology, the Vietnam War, and crime were added.

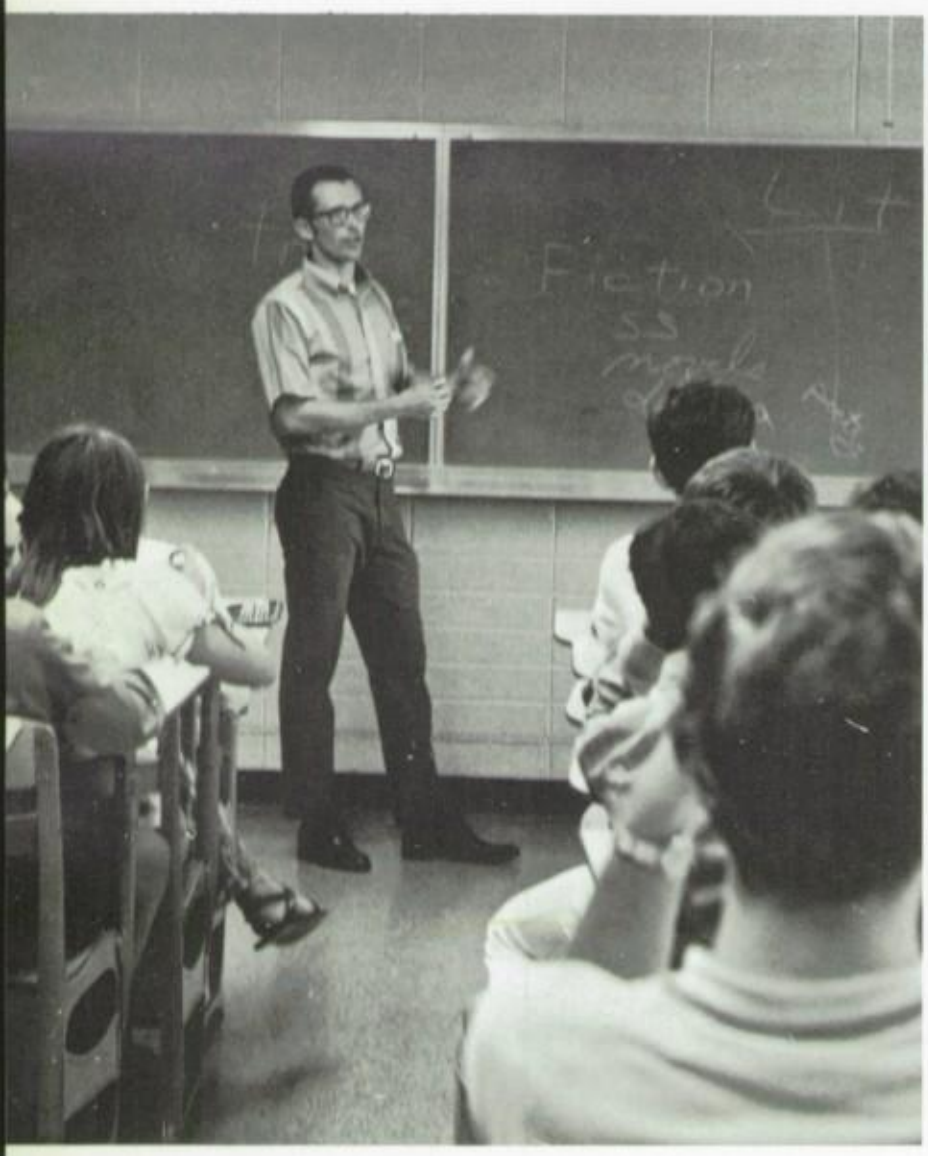
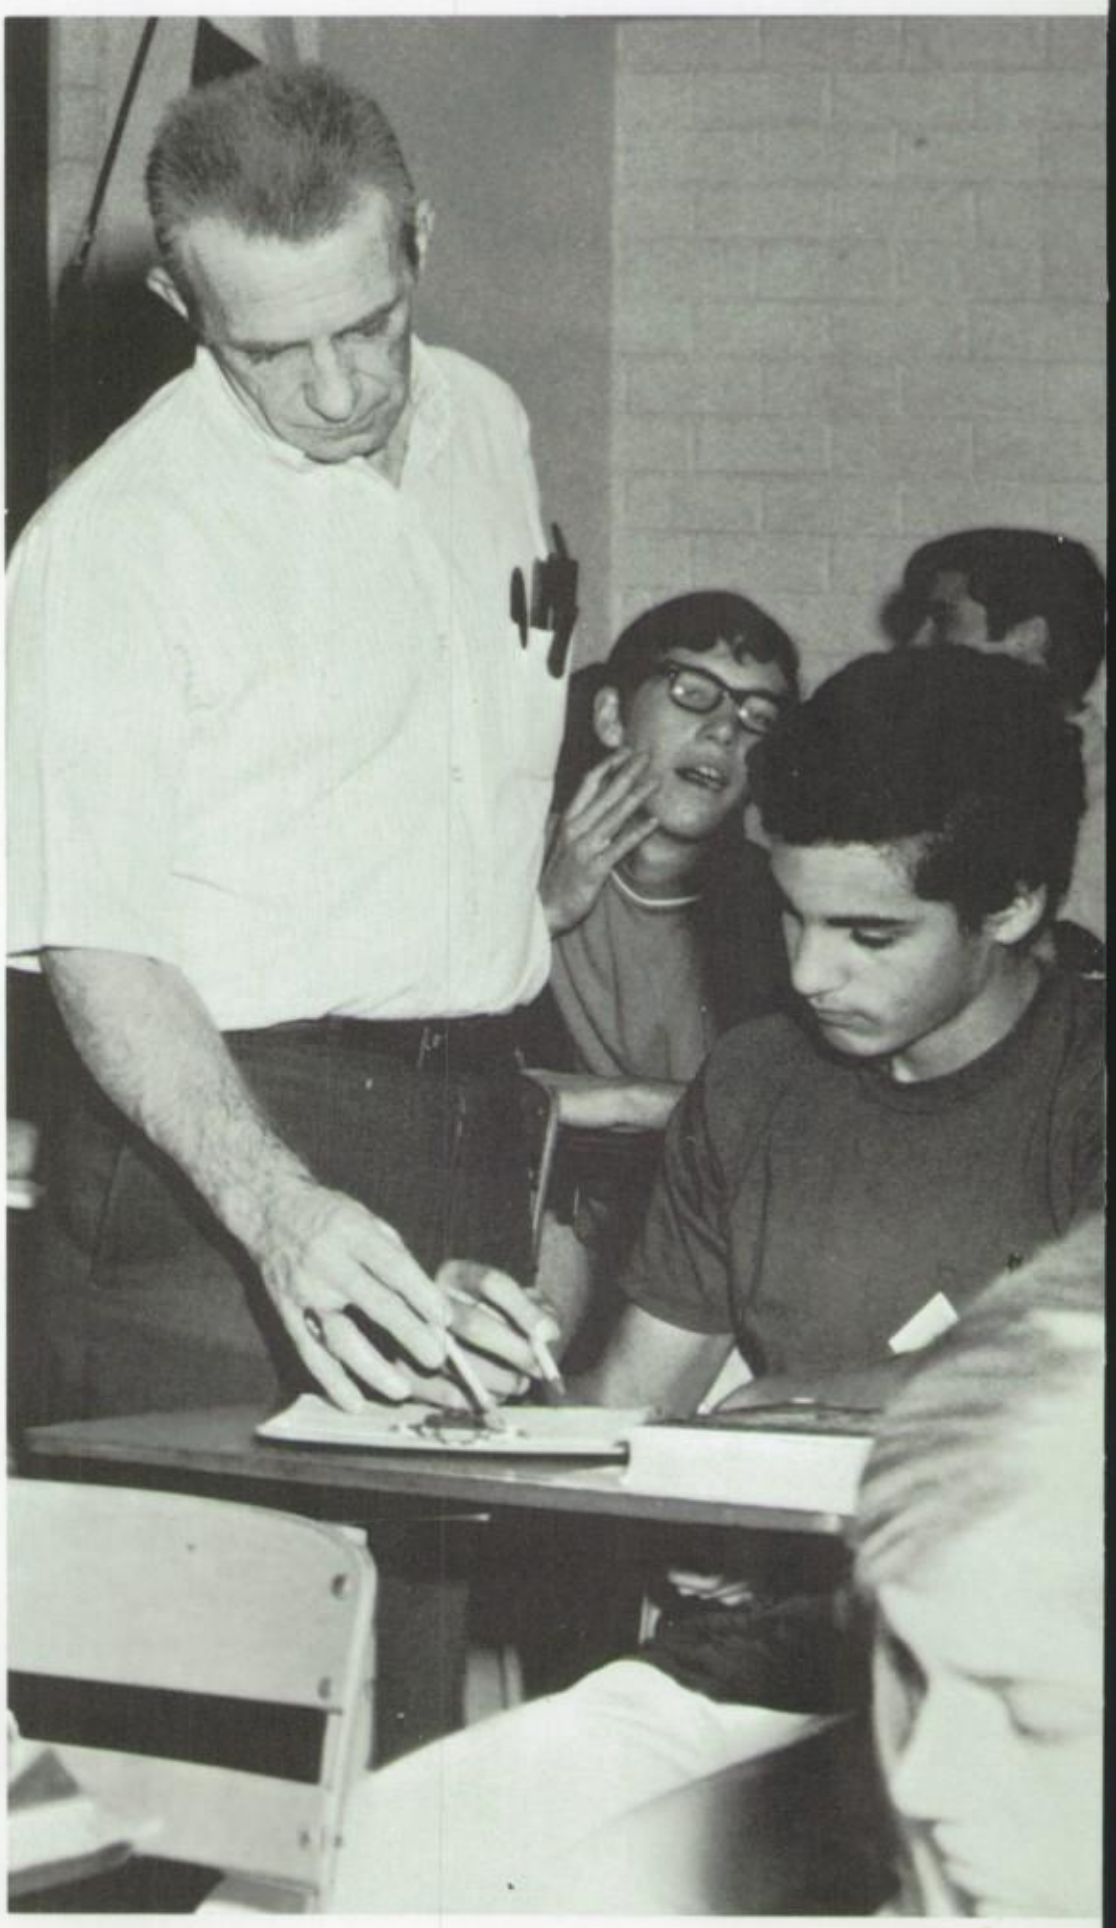
Writer's philosophies influence today's generation.

Left: Interesting lectures to stimulate learning are necessary for Mr. Broyles' English Literature class. Below: Individual attention becomes scarce as overpopulation crowds high schools. Mr. Hervey attempts to overcome this by helping Mike Lebron. Right: Choosing a source from a wealth of materials available, Mrs. Margaret Smith peruses magazines in the English room.





The English Department is always trying new and different things. Eight senior rotation classes were the innovations this year. Mr. Ned Mackey, Mrs. Jean Christison, Miss Dorothy Kalil, and Mrs. Laura Hollander were the teachers of these rotation classes.

Modern Media classes increased from one to three this year and Miss Barbara Pinter was not only in charge of these Media classes, but also a Media Club.

Expressing individuality is very important during a year of schedules and school bells. This year Fine Arts put more emphasis on creativity than any other of the 13 years that Mr. Grimes has headed this department.

Mr. Frakes began Drama classes with improvisations using percussion instruments. Mr. Wolfe encouraged his art students to experiment with free expression. The orchestra doubled its size over last year showing student involvement in the music department.

Expression and creativity for some girls meant sewing different clothes and creating exotic meals. Mr. Hetler encouraged individuality by giving her students free time to discover and develop their own culinary talents.

Stricter athletic policies constituted a new approach towards Boy's PE Special schedules for each six weeks were pre-determined and students had no choice of activities. The PE department included better equipment, larger classes and responsive coaches.

Girl's PE changed for the better this year with the installation of Co-ed recreation. Miss Wiggins, the new department chairman, was in charge of the Co-ed recreation, changing the activity each six weeks. Because of a more extensive Leadership Corp, there was more individual attention in the PE classes. Miss Pepper instigated the Jogger's Club in January and also helped clean up Rincon's campus.

Clean campus-product of combined effort.

Thanks to the ground crew, engineers, and cafeteria staff, Rangers enjoyed a clean, well-fed, temperate and glistening environment.

As summer returns,
and the confused maze of people melts
into long, lazy days of yellow sunshine, peace brings happy memories—
but not of the red brick, or the miles and miles of monotonous tile,
or the perpetually puddled sidewalks;
only people, flashes of faces,
or maybe a funny moment
like the time you fell up the stairs.
The people of Rincon remain deeply embedded in the mind—
even after those puddles have dried, and the brick has crumbled to dust. .

After the sunshine,
After the brilliant drops of spashed water,
And sleeping until noon
or getting up at dawn and hiking to Sabino
For a picnic breakfast.
After the barefeet,
After the long hours of lying on the grass
And making pictures of the clouds
Or planning a trip to Mexico with a friend.
The alarm rings.
Abrutly the peace of summer is broken.
The flash of color, the blur of faces,
The confused rush of voices,
The sound of coke machines coming to life,
Our dreams pushed ahead to reality.
Caught in a maze of people,
Sharing moments of happiness and truth . . . . . A tableau of Rincon High School.
